

Ernest Grotz, 1230 Norton avenue, Bristol, points to his red letter day on the calendar. The sergeant was stationed at Pearl Harbor on that December 7, 1941. Each passing year dims that day from his memory but still the picture burns. An unforgettable event in the history of the world—Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941. (Courier and Times photo)

Bristolian Looks Back To Dec. 7, 1941

Japanese Dropped Breakfast 'Eggs'

By KAY BLINCOE
Courier and Times Staff Writer

Breakfast was late for Ernest Grotz 15 years ago today.

The Bristol man, his brother Elwood, and a handful of other American servicemen ate breakfast a little later than usual that Dec. 7, 1941, in Pearl Harbor.

Grotz, 35, of 1230 Norton avenue, a sergeant in the 35th Infantry Division, was standing in a chow line in the cool, misty morning. "We were getting hot pancakes and eggs off the stove and heard explosions off in the distance."

"I looked in the sky and Zeros were coming from all directions with guns chattering. I looked towards the harbor. Only smoke rose to meet the planes."

"Our planes could hardly get into the air. The Jap planes came over the ship dropping their eggs and our men as quick as we could get to our feet," the veteran said.

No Warning

"There were no sirens or any other warning. The Jap planes just came and that was all. They were there and we had to do something about it," he said.

He had entered the service in October, 1940 and had volunteered for duty in Hawaii. He made his stripes before he left the States.

"Everything stopped dead for a moment after we realized what was happening. Then the captain came over and told us that war had been declared," he said.

"It took us about an hour to get mobilized. We broke into our own supply room and got guns and ammunition and began rounding up all the Japanese civilians on the islands," he said.

"And still the planes came. The Zeros strafed the barracks, the mess halls, and anything else that happened to come into their gun-sights. The attack lasted all that day and into the night and finally let up about mid-morning on the eighth," Grotz said. "My unit was sent into the hills to look for Jap paratroopers that we heard had landed during the night. The report turned out to be false, but we couldn't afford any doubts especially with a Jap convoy about 300 miles out. We searched the hills until daybreak," the sergeant said.

See Editorial—Page 6 "Lesson Of Pearl Harbor"

"We made ready for the enemy task force that was steaming into Pearl, but luckily, our fleet went out to meet it and was able to stop its advances. That was the battle of the Coral Sea. If we hadn't taken that battle . . .," the sergeant's voice trailed off.

"My brother Elwood was with me at the Harbor, but he was with the 27th Infantry and we didn't get to see much of each other. When the attack came, and everyone scrambled, I didn't see Elwood until 1944 after I had been mustered out of service," Grotz said.

"Funny how things like that happen, too. Elwood went right along with his unit, keeping up with us all through the early fighting. He was sent to Guadalcanal the same time I was. He was on one side of the island and I was on the other. Neither of us knew, for sure, the other was still on the line," Grotz recalled with a certain look in his eye. "Elwood's still in the Army," he said.

"I was mustered out in Oct. 1943, after the 'canal and the Solomons had been cleaned up. I'd done my share of the fighting, I guess," Sergeant Grotz said.

Others thought so, too. Sergeant Ernest Grotz was awarded the Presidential Citation, the Bronze Star, the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the Good Conduct medal, the Asian-Pacific medal, the American Theater medal, and the American Defense medal.

Veteran at 20, Grotz is now a staff sergeant with the 79th Infantry, U.S. Army Reserves. He and his wife Regina, have two children; 10-year-old Ernest, Jr., and one-year-old, Regina.

A carpenter for McCloskey Construction Co., Philadelphia, Grotz built his family's ranch-type home on Norton avenue.

Besides himself and his brother Elwood, Grotz's five other brothers are Army veterans. "William, (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

The Weather

Fair and warm today with high 65-70. Mostly cloudy and continued warm with occasional showers tonight and tomorrow. Low tonight near 50.

The Levittown Times

THE Daily Newspaper of Lower Bucks County

FINAL
★ ★ ★
EDITION

VOL. 4—No. 99

LEVITTOWN, PA., FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 7, 1956

Member A. B. C.

28 Pages

Price, Five Cents

AUTO DEALER SAFE SUSPECT CAUGHT

Philadelphia Car Salesman Apprehended

Held For Questioning In $15,660 Robbery At McCafferty Ford

A former Philadelphia automobile salesman was arrested today for questioning in the $15,660 safe burglary of McCafferty Ford company, Route 1, Middletown township. The suspect was picked up by Philadelphia police this morning for speeding.

State Police of the Fairless Hills sub-station and county detectives were called when city police found money, checks and automobile stickers, which were taken from McCafferty's, in the rear seat of his car.

Police also reported that the suspect was driving a stolen car. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Good Evening!

Amazing weather.

Last winter worst in years. If this one continues we'll never know we had it.

Greens and fairways should be ideal and the only fellows who should know better than Levittown's Bob Hagen and Spence Erwin are Kaiser's John Winterstein and Devon Smith.

We're pretty familiar with still another guy who very shortly is going to find out.

Fifteen years ago today. . . .

One of the most tragic days in American history, that Sunday, December 7, 1941, when Nipponese bombers devastated Pearl Harbor.

Tragic mostly because it showed how completely complacent was America in a world aflame; how completely unprepared for any eventuality, how completely confident was our military that nothing could ever happen here.

The great lesson? We can only fervently hope we have learned it for keeps.

A year ago today it was just two and a half weeks till Christmas.

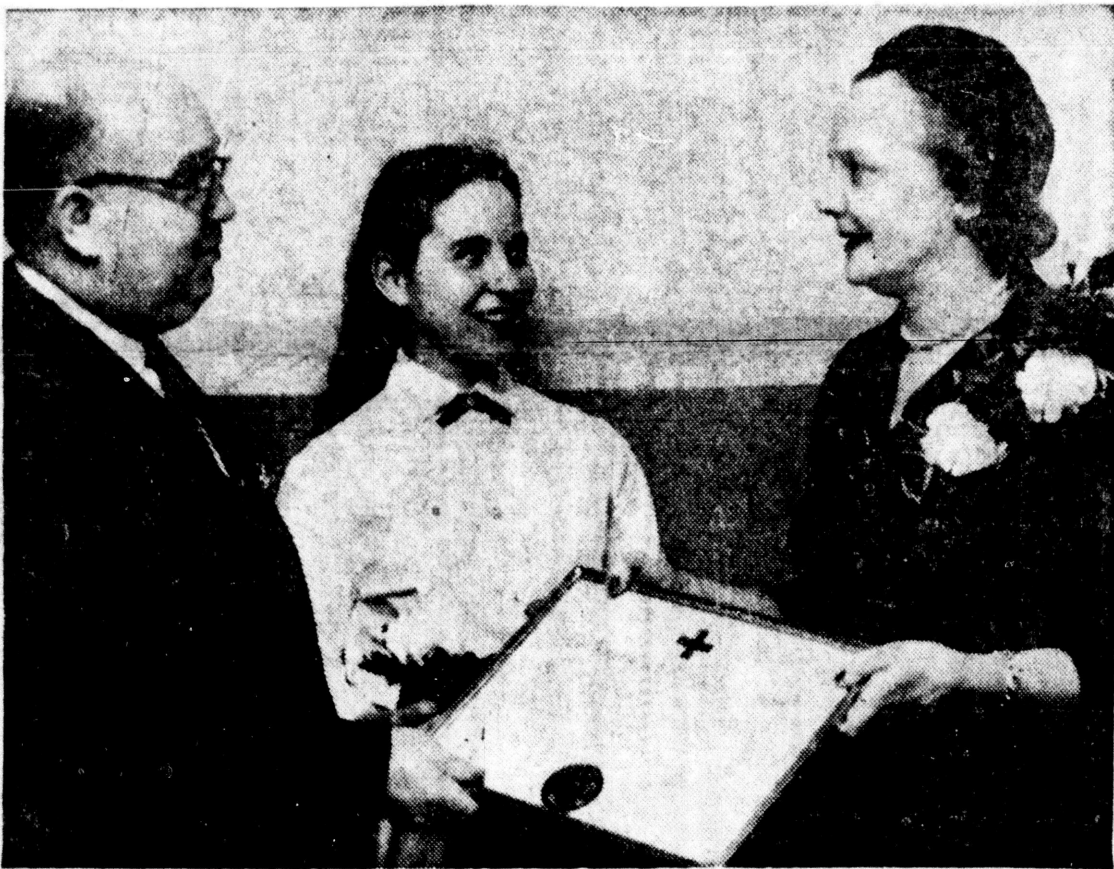

Yes sir, and here we are again and already the holiday spirit is beginning to reign supreme. But for heaven's sake, get hustling with that shopping. You realize there are only 14 more days to do it?

No question about it. A lot of the singers on TV must impress doctors as ear, nose and throat cases.

French stylist says American women are shy. If they weren't, their husbands would be.

If you're driving, watch it.

Lower Bucks Red Cross Chapter Chartered

Mrs. Thomas L. Kerney of the board of governors of the American Red Cross, presents the charter of the new Lower Bucks County chapter to Chairman Medill Bair. Looking on is Susan Katz, of Allentown, who spoke on her trip to Europe as a delegate of the American Junior Red Cross at the charter dinner last night. (Courier and Times Photo)

Lower Bucks Red Cross Chapter Receives Charter

By BOB REINHARDT
Courier and Times Staff Writer

Lower Bucks County's own American Red Cross Chapter officially came into being at a charter dinner last night, already holding a record of five months' service to the community as an independent chapter.

The charter was presented to Medill Bair, chairman of the new chapter, by Mrs. Thomas L. Kerney, of Trenton, N. J., a member of the governing board of the American Red Cross, before 100 officials and members of the new organization.

The program, held at the Edgeley Fire Hall, also featured two unannounced awards to area women for many years of Red Cross service to Lower Bucks County. Miss Frances Landreth, Bristol and Mrs. William W. Fabian, Newtown.

The chief speaker of the evening, 15-year-old Susan Katz, an Allentown High School student, gave an inspiring talk on her recent tour through Europe as a delegate of the Junior Red Cross and American ambassador of good will.

An officer of the Trenton Red Cross Chapter, with many years of leadership in the Red Cross and other welfare and service organizations, Mrs. Kerney brought greetings from her city as well as from National President E. Rowland Harriman and the national board. The framed charter contains the signature of President Eisenhower as well as that of Mr. Harriman.

Mr. Bair, in a telephone call to Philadelphia, received best wishes for the new chapter from Gen. Alfred Gruenther, incoming Red Cross president.

"I know that we have a real chapter here, and a working chapter," Mr. Bair said in accepting the charter. Among the most recent activities of the Red Cross chapter he cited the Hungarian Relief Campaign and the blood program.

Miss Landreth and Mrs. Fabian were unable to attend to receive their awards, which were voted unanimously by the executive committee.

Miss Landreth was hailed for her instrumental part in organizing the Lower Bucks County Branch in 1917 and her service (Continued on Page 16, Col. 8)

Twp. Studies Traffic Snarl

The Bristol Township highway committee was scheduled to meet with representatives of the state highway department and other groups at 2:30 p.m. today to discuss a plan for alleviating traffic conditions at the intersection of Route 413, State road and Old Route 13.

The meeting was set up by Eugene Kehoe, chairman of the committee. He will present a plan which has been devised by the committee.

Expected to attend the meeting were: a representative of the District office of the highway department, a representative of Rohm and Haas, Mayor Anthony T. Greski, of Burlington, and representatives of the Burlington-Bristol Bridge Commission.

Lost Missile Heading For Brazil Jungles

Air Force Unsure Of Whereabouts Of Runaway 'Snark'

WASHINGTON — UP — An inter-continental guided missile which escaped Air Force control was headed toward Brazil when last seen by radar, officials said today.

The missing missile, a 600-mile-an-hour Snark, was test fired Wednesday from the experimental center at Patrick Air Force Base, Cocoa, Fla. Its guidance mechanism went haywire and the Snark refused to obey radio orders to return to base.

By late morning today the Air Force still had received no word on what happened to it. If it crashed in the Brazilian jungles, as seemed likely, chances of ever finding it would be slim.

In disappearing into the wild blue, the missile apparently set a distance record. Air Force sources said the missile probably went about 3,000 miles before it crashed. This is farther than any Air Force intercontinental missile is known to have traveled on test.

The wayward missile was launched over a test range that stretches across the Caribbean into the South Atlantic off the nose of Brazil.

Destination Unknown

The Defense Department issued a brief statement shortly before midnight last night announcing that the missile escaped from control at its "scheduled turn-around point and proceeded to a destination yet unknown."

"We don't know where it is," a Pentagon spokesman said.

He said he could not confirm or deny published reports that the Snark was seen flashing over the Brazilian jungles 2,000 miles from its base.

However, he said the missile presumably has crashed either in the ocean or some remote land area and Brazil was a good possibility.

Brazilian diplomats here said they had heard nothing about the missing Snark.

The Pentagon spokesman said he had no information regarding plans to search for the missile (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Cold Weather This Weekend

Another topsy-turvy weather day is on tap for this late fall afternoon in Lower Bucks.

Cloudy skies with mild temperatures well into the 60's are expected for today, the Weather Bureau at Trenton said. Tonight will be cloudy with thermometer falling to the 40's with a chance of light rain.

Tomorrow will turn colder with overcast skies. The weekend should be much colder with some rain expected late tomorrow and Sunday.

Hello!

Richard P. Doyle, 24 West Lincoln highway, Pennel, gets a fine welcome. Toni King, magazine cover girl, is the pretty girl meeting him as he attends the 61st Annual Congress of American Industry, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers. He is a student at Pennsylvania State University.

'No Defense' Plea Entered By Goldfarb

By JIM MCGONIGLE
Courier and Times Staff Writer

NORRISTOWN — Dr. William L. Goldfarb entered a plea of "no defense" to one count of obtaining money under false pretenses today involving an autopsy on the body of Barbara A. Weaver, 377 Holly Drive, Levittown.

A score of Bucks County persons, including witnesses and spectators, were present at the Norristown court house in anticipation of Goldfarb's plea.

Lawrence Weaver, husband of Mrs. Weaver, testified before judges Harold G. Knight, William F. Dannehower and E. Arnold Forrest in Montgomery county court, that he approached Dr. Goldfarb, former deputy coroner of Bucks County, sometime in 1954, and inquired whether an autopsy could be performed on the body of his wife.

Weaver said that Dr. Goldfarb informed him that no facilities for the autopsy were available, and that he would be prohibited from placing the cost of the autopsy on the county.

The husband explained that he had a pathologist perform the autopsy, and that he, Weaver, was billed $100. He said Dr. Goldfarb had nothing to do with the autopsy.

H. Lamont Marsh, who was clerk of Bucks county Quarter Sessions court from 1952 through (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Hungary's Labor Warns of Tragedy

BUDAPEST — UP — Hungarian guns of Russian tanks. They were ready for anything following three days of demonstration. In the severest clash, yesterday, Russian and Hungarian police (Continued on Page 17)

How Good Is The Team That Beat Bristol Last Year?

● Remember Fountain Hill High school? It's basketball team defeated Bristol last year in the state finals. Its prospects are given for the season by Dick Dougherty, Courier and Times sports writer. Page 18.

● Happy Birthday. Eight of them, to be exact, in a picture strip in our society section. Page 15.

INDEX

Amusement	22
Classified	22, 23, 24, 25
Comics	26, 27
Dr. Brady	6
Dr. Crane	6
Earl Wilson	6
Editorials	6
Fred Othman	6
Junior Reporter	27
Obituaries	26
TV	3
Social Club News	14, 15
Sports	18, 19

Cornerstone Laying Rites Conducted At Two Schools

Cornerstone Laying

Sewage Unit Set For New Levittown

The Committee of Willingboro township, N. J., took action this week to set up a sewerage authority for the planned Levittown, N. J.

The authority will consist of five members with salaries not to exceed $1000 a year, according to township Solicitor Sidney W. Bookbinder.

The committee passed on first reading an amendment to the township zoning ordinance which would rezone all agricultural land in the township into residential and another that would set up as commercial a strip of land from Ott's Motel, Rt. 130, along the highway to Bridgeboro.

Safe Suspect Apprehended

(Continued from Page One) at the time of his arrest. It was also stated that the suspect was formerly employed as a salesman for a Philadelphia automobile agency.

Col. Andrew Kutney, of State Police, and County Detective Clarence Irwin, brought the suspect back from Philadelphia late this morning.

Used Crow Bar

The money was stolen from the automobile agency Wednesday night or Thursday morning.

The burglar or burglars used a crow bar to pry open the five-foot high safe. Police Chief Howard C. Shook said it must have taken two-and-a-half to three hours to crack the safe.

Police reported the safecrackers made off with an estimated $14,600 in checks, and $1060 in cash.

When Philadelphia police notified Kutney that they had picked up the suspect, the State Police Corporal swore out a warrant for his arrest before JP William Oettinger.

Oettinger said the warrant was sworn out for a John Joseph Cuff, of 1021 West Orleans street, Philadelphia, on a charge of burglary. Armed with the warrant, Kutney and Irwin went to Philadelphia and picked up the suspect. As of 2 p.m. no hearing had been held or scheduled for the suspect.

'No Defense'

(Continued from Page One)

1955, testified that Dr. Goldfarb submitted a $75 bill to him for the non-existent county autopsy on the body of Mrs. Weaver.

He said the bill by the deputy coroner was approved by him as a matter of routine and submitted to the county treasurer's office for payment.

The pathologist who performed the autopsy on the Weaver body testified that she never billed Goldfarb for it and the only payment she received was from Weaver himself.

District attorney Donald W. VanArtsdalen informed the judges prior to the arraignment that there are 15 bills of indictment against Goldfarb.

At least another score of witnesses were expected to testify in the case this afternoon including character witnesses for Goldfarb.

Goldfarb, free on $1500 bail, is represented by attorney Thomas C. McBride, Philadelphia, who was recently appointed Pennsylvania attorney general and Attorney Morris Gerber, Norristown.

Watson

(Continued from Page One)

election to the Senate in 1947. He served two years as Bucks County Republican Chairman.

Sen. Watson is chairman of the Senate committee on executive nominations, vice chairman of the appropriations committee, and a member of the agricultural, forests and waters, game and fish, highway, insurance, labor and industry and state government committees. For six years he has been chairman of the Interstate Cooperative, the only Republican office holder to serve on that committee.

Missile

(Continued from Page One)

except to say "We always try to get them back."

Not the First Lost

He said the Air Force has lost a number of Snarks in tests from Florida.

The 72-foot long Snark—a sleek, red pilotless bomber designed to carry an atomic warhead over intercontinental distances—has been flown over distances of 2,000 miles.

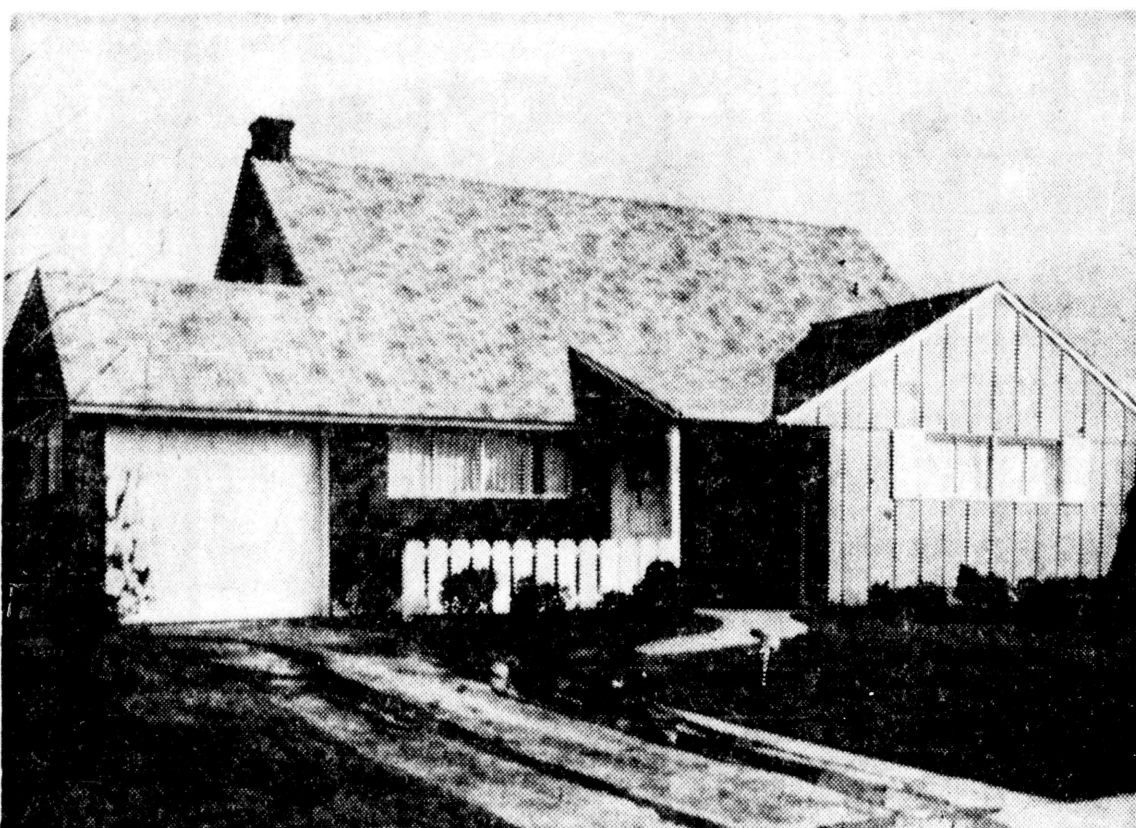

The Levittown Times

THE DAILY Newspaper of Lower Bucks

Friday Evening, December 7, 1956

Second Front Page

New Home At New Exhibit

The New Pennsylvanian is ready for public viewing at the Levittown Route 413 exhibit which will be open tomorrow.

New Homes Show At Levittown Exhibit

A new housing exhibit with four sample homes ranging in price from $10,500 to $19,500 will open at Levittown tomorrow. It was announced by Levitt and Sons, Inc. The new exhibit is located on Route 413, the western boundary of the pre-planned community, about half a mile south of U.S. Route 1.

A star attraction, the display features the $14,000 Pennsylvanian, a new house opening to the public for the first time this weekend. Other houses in the exhibit are the famous $11,990 Jubilee (available for $10,500 with unfinished second floor), the one-story $11,750 Levittowner, and the luxurious Country Clubber, re-designed and enlarged to sell at $19,500.

The Courier and Times reported on Tuesday that the center was expected to open shortly, and carried a complete description of each of the four homes, including the new Pennsylvanian.

The new exhibit, according to spokesmen for Levitt and Sons, Inc., offers the most diversified display of sample homes in the history of the building firm.

The Pennsylvanian represents the Levitt firm's first entry in the $14,000-$16,000 price field, the most rapidly growing category in the housing industry.

Extra Large Bedrooms

The four-bedroom, two-bath Pennsylvanian, planned to provide advance features generally found only in luxury-priced homes, offers exceptionally large rooms, abundant closet and storage space, and sliding glass walls in the living-dining area for indoor-outdoor living. This floor-to-ceiling window wall, measuring 16 feet of heavy-duty Thermopane, opens directly to a 24-foot patio.

Another highlight of the home is the all-electric kitchen with its labor-saving layout of appliances, built-in snack bar and pass-through to the dining room. Measurements of the three main bedrooms are 14 by 19 feet, 12 by 18 feet, and 11 by 17 feet. The fourth bedroom, 10 by 12 feet, is conveniently located for use as a study or TV room.

For inside storage, the house has five regular closets, two walk-in closets, plus a second floor storage vault of about 30 square feet. The two bathrooms, one on each floor, are finished in real ceramic tile and each has a built-in vanity and clothes hamper.

U-Shaped Kitchen

The kitchen, designed in a compact U-shape to provide step-saving efficiency, has a built-in wall oven, table-top range, 12 cubic foot refrigerator with magnetic door, filter-flo clothes washer.

Pearl Harbor

(Continued from Page One)

Charles, Leslie, and Joseph were all in on World War II," he said, "and the youngest brother, Richard, entered the Army after the peace had been signed," the soldier said.

"America must always be on guard so that Pearl Harbor can never happen again," the battle-veteran said with firmness.

The quiet, soft-spoken man goes about his business as usual, but always in the back of his mind is the day his breakfast came late.

er, automatic clothes dryer and 24 linear feet of counter top work area. All kitchen fixtures and appliances are included in the purchase price.

In furnishing the Pennsylvanian, as well as all the other houses in the exhibit, the Levitt firm's decorator, Miss Alice Kenney, used materials and furniture that could be copied or adapted by home buyers.

The luxurious Country Clubber, enlarged and re-designed for 1957, is also opening to the public for the first time this weekend. Among the highlights of the house are a complete air-conditioning system provided as standard equipment, the most complete kitchen ever offered by Levitt and Sons, including a spacious breakfast nook, and 24 feet of Thermopane window-wall connecting the living and dining rooms to the patio.

Levittown is almost 90 per cent completed. Final construction is proceeding in the northwest section, an area of rolling wooded hills and streams. A new shopping center with 25 retail stores is being built in this part of the community. Nearby are U.S. Route 1 and a suburban station of the Reading railroad.

Tom Thumb Nursery Has Openings

Beginning with the January session, the Tom Thumb Nursery and Kindergarten will have openings for new enrollment.

Parents interested in sending their children can contact Mrs. Jean Harrell, at WI 5-1309.

The school, sponsored by the American Association of University Women, can accommodate 44 children in nursery classes and the same number in kindergarten classes.

Channel State Funds

200 Hear Community Is Focus Of Mental Health

"In mental health, the planning must come from the home, neighborhood, and the community," said a national mental health leader to a crowd of 200 persons last night.

Dr. Edward J. Humphreys, director of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Mental Health Services for Children, in Harrisburg, addressing a mental health meeting in the Samuel Everitt school, Trenton road, Levittown, said the community is now the focus of the problem and the planning must come from there.

Channel Funds

Dr. Humphreys asserted that state funds must be channeled back into the community, rather than solely into state hospitals.

He pointed out, however, that hospitals will face the problem with far more hope than ever thought possible because of new drugs, and new progress in diagnosis and treatment. The new, state sponsored, mental health program, he declared, will "make a big dent in the waiting list of people seeking aid for emotional disturbances."

Mrs. Eleanor Elkins, president of the Bucks County Mental Health Society, served as chairman for the meeting and in turn introduced Mrs. Harriet Goldberg, of the Lower Bucks Mental Health committee, who presented the background and activities of the chapter.

Seeing Levittown

By JIM ORT

A group of men from the Elderberry section are planning to throw a New Year's Eve party for their wives. A night of good fun is planned. Frank Tanner, Lou Belevita, Vince Ratti, Gene Chadwick, Bill Givney, George Kohlbrener, Walt Krier, Tom Schwartz, and Charlie Riley are making the arrangements.

Several youngsters from the Mill Creek section will entertain residents with carols on Christmas Eve. They call themselves the "Christmas Jesters" and will donate any contributions they receive that night to the Bucks County Rescue Squad.

Heard of a heart warming story about a ten-year-old girl in the Appletree section. It seems this girl's brother is currently in an industrial school, and she offers a Christmas prayer about 15 times a day praying for his return home by the holidays. She wants no toys for Christmas, only her brother. She keeps telling her mother, "It gotta happen, it gotta happen!"

A four-month-old boxer puppy belonging to Mr. and Mrs. John Winter, 77 Whitewood drive, struck out to see the world last night. The pooch answers to the name of "Duke", and is a fawn color with white markings on its face, chest and feet. If you've seen the pup, give the Winter's a call.

P. S. The other day, we noted that Barbara Bamford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bamford, 20 Border Rock road, Blue Ridge, came down with the chicken pox and mumps. Well, Steven, her four-year-old brother, broke out with chicken pox the other day. Mike, age two, picked up the measles, and Mrs. Bamford gave birth Monday, to a baby girl.

French Official Is Main Speaker At Program

Bristol Township and Delhaas school authorities held cornerstone laying ceremonies for the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school and the Lafayette elementary school yesterday.

Raoul Pelmont, of the French embassy, was the main speaker at Lafayette school program. He told the group it was "gratifying" to see that Americans held a Frenchman in such high esteem as to name a school after him despite the present world situation.

Stanley B. Dick, administrator of the Benjamin Franklin school, presided over the program held at 11 a.m. in the auditorium.

Introduce Guests

Dr. Guy F. Eberhardt, Regional superintendent of Delhaas and Bristol Township schools, introduced various guests to the students.

He praised the part played by Walter Miller, former superintendent, in making the school a reality. Mr. Miller, who resigned recently, was largely responsible for planning the school and having it built. Dr. Eberhardt also introduced Henry B. Decker, administrative assistant, who worked with Mr. Miller on the Franklin and other schools.

Other guests introduced included Harry Barth, former president of the Delhaas and Bristol Township School boards; Robert Mcklewright, a member of the architectural firm which designed the building, and Berkley Ellis, assistant principal.

Raoul Pelmont

Special Feature

A special feature was the attendance of James R. LaRue, of 803 Radcliffe street, Bristol. LaRue was born in 1873 on the farm which included the site of the school. He has lived in the area since. His grandson, Lloyd LaRue Betts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Betts Jr., now attends seventh grade at the school.

After the ceremonies in the auditorium the entire student body and officials moved outside, to the cornerstone.

Deposit Articles

Students and officials deposited various articles in a copper box in the cornerstone.

They were: Fred Smith, president of the student council, put in a list of students on the rolls on Feb. 6, 1856, the day of entry in the school; Arnold Katz, president of the presidents council, a copy of the 1955-56 student handbook; Bess Vattimo, president of ninth grade class, copy of the Bristol Courier, the Philadelphia Inquirer and this week's cafeteria menu; Mrs. Ada Hopkins, acting secretary of the Parent-Teachers-Students Association, placed a bible; Julius Gouza, president of the Delhaas Father's Association, a flag; Dianne Dettmer, editor of the Alamanack, put in a copy of the school newspaper, and the yearbook; Mr. Micklewright a copy of the floor plans, and Mr. Decker a copy of the Pennsylvania Economy League's report on the Township schools.

The school band, under the direction of Walter Freed, played the Star Spangled Banner.

2 O'Clock Ceremonies

Ceremonies at the Lafayette school were held at 2 p.m. on the school grounds.

Paula Katzman, Frank Spiegel, Cathy Walterick, Cullen Fisher, and Leslie Harmon, all students, raised the flag.

Dr. Eberhardt introduced Robert Krebs, director of Elementary Education, Miss Ruth Trauger, elementary supervisor; Mr. Miller and Mr. Decker.

The Children's Chorus, directed by Dr. Ralph Horning, music consultant, presented several selections, and the school orchestra played several numbers.

FIREMEN BAKE SALE

Members of Bristol Consolidated Fire Company will hold a bake sale in the fire station, Pond and Merry streets, tomorrow, starting at 10 a.m.

Five Eastern Locals Back MacDonald

PITTSBURGH — UP — Two more Pittsburgh area locals of the United Steelworkers have endorsed rebel candidates for top offices at the union's general election in February.

In Eastern Pennsylvania, five locals in the area around Pottstown voted support for the present USW international leadership, headed by president David J. McDonald.

The latest locals to endorse the rebel rank-and-file candidates were Local 2687, Pittsburgh Coke and Chemical Co., and Local 1537, Latrobe Steel Co.

They voted last night to back Don C. Rarick, chairman of the Dues Protest Committee, as president, Edward Revak as vice president and William Klug, of Milwaukee as secretary-treasurer.

The Eastern Pennsylvania locals nominating McDonald and other top incumbents, were 2177, Bethlehem Steel; 2326, Stanley Flagg Co.; 2470, New England Auto Products Co.; 4988, Mayer Pollack Co., and 5348, Piersol-Pine company.

Levittowner In Crash

Two buses crashed on the Benjamin Franklin Bridge from Philadelphia to Camden, N.J., Wednesday night when the driver of the first bus attempted to avoid hitting the disabled car of Joseph G. Stein, 34, of 47 Farmbrook drive, Levittown. His bus was hit in the rear by a second bus.

Twelve persons were injured and 20 jolted in the crash. Stein was not injured.

The injured were treated for cuts and bruises at Hahnemann Hospital, Philadelphia. Both buses were bound for Glassboro, N.J. Police said the first bus was driven by Howard M. Govett, of Pitman, N.J., followed by a bus driven by Harry E. Baum, 47, of Philadelphia.

HULMEVILLE BAKE SALE

The ways and means committee of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Nesha-miny Methodist church in Hulmeville, will sponsor a bake sale tomorrow at Shapcotts store.

Margaret Rago, sixth grade student at the Lafayette elementary school, holds a trowel full of mortar to put on the cornerstone of the school in ceremonies yesterday. Helping Margaret is Miss Mary Hogarty, a teacher; watching in the rear is Mrs. Robert Barnett, president of the Parent-Teachers Association.

Four Find Cards Are Stacked In Detective Game

PHILADELPHIA UP — The of three-card monte. The detectives were returning here from an investigation in New York. Sostress G. Horton, 20, of Norfolk, Va., told police the men had taken him for $100 worth of travelers' checks. He said he was enroute home from Ft. Dix, N.J., where he was discharged following service in Germany.

Symposium Slated By Temple Units

"Progressive Judaism in the Making" will be the theme of a symposium featuring the Rabbi and officers of Temple Shalom and its subsidiary groups at Sabbath evening services tonight, at 8:30 in Temple Shalom, 1000 road off Mill Creek Parkway.

Rabbi Robert Bergman and Cantor David Wisnia and the Temple choir under the direction of Theodore Jack will officiate.

The symposium will be followed during the Oneg Shabbat social hour by a discussion of the institutions of Reform Judaism.

No Religious School

No religious School classes will be held at Temple Shalom this Saturday or Sunday in view of the Temple school's Hanukkah recess.

Regular Sabbath morning services will be conducted by the Confirmation Department as usual on Saturday at 11 a.m.

Fire Sweeps 'El Train

CHICAGO — UP — Fire swept through two wooden cars of an elevated train crowded with suburbanites bound for work early today, killing one person and injuring scores.

It was the second major accident on Chicago's elevated railway system in five weeks.

Authorities believed an explosion touched off the fire and electrified the motorman before the flames spread back through the lead car of the Evanston special bound for downtown Chicago.

"There were people jumping everywhere, onto the tracks," Saul Friedman, 40, 327 Greenleaf, Wilmette, said. "The first car was all in flames."

Bulletin

Slaying Solved

PHILADELPHIA — UP — Police Inspector John J. Kelly said today that detectives have solved the cold-blooded slaying of a businessman who unwittingly walked into the midst of a teenage gang war in front of a North Philadelphia bank.

The inspector did not pinpoint the killer, but made his statement after questioning 16 juveniles and completing ballistics tests on weapons taken from the teenagers in a mass roundup of suspects.

Philippines Win

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. UP — The Philippines, with the backing of the United States, won a first-ballot victory over Russian-backed Czechoslovakia today for a place in the United Nations Security Council.

Off to the United Nations

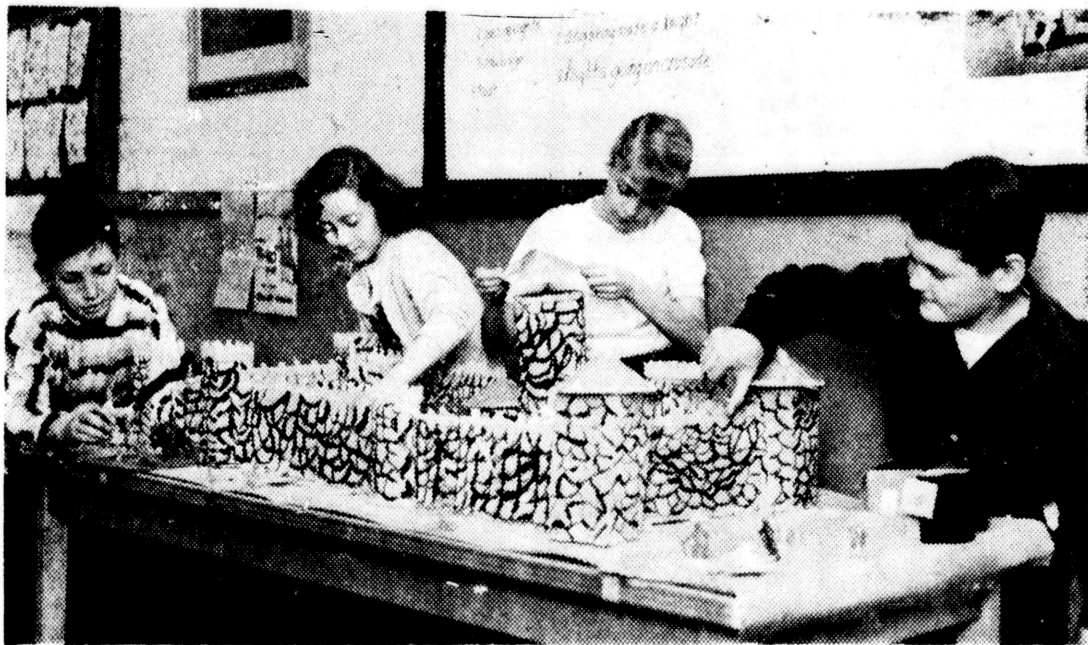

Waving goodbye as they board bus for a one day trip to the United Nations are: Joan Grant, Barbara Chenava, Loretta Hauck and Ann Jacquin, all eleventh grade pupils of Delhaas high school. About 70 students made the trip yesterday in the company of four teachers. (Courier and Times Photo)

Morrisville • Yardley • Makefield

State Starts Survey Work On Proposed Route 13 Extension

Castle By Youngsters

Students of the Manor Park School in Morrisville built a replica of a middle age castle as a class project. The class is a sixth grade group under the direction of Mrs. Creasy. Putting the finishing touches on the subject are (from left): Richard Marshall, Joanne Widmann, Sandra Laypo, and Dennis Cible. (Courier and Times Photo)

Big Yearbook Is Promised At Morrisville

Plans for the "biggest and best ever" school yearbook were announced today by James Wood of Morrisville High School.

The book will be published in sections on the senior class, home and it will be the largest yearbook ever published at the school, Mr. Wood said.

It will include a review of the year's activities including special sections on the senior class, sports, school activities, sports, and classroom work.

An added attraction this year will be the summer supplement. This will list all activities scheduled after the book is released.

The theme of this year's publication is "Modern Age."

Janet Adams has been appointed editor-in-chief of the publication. Mary Ellen Kane is associate editor, and Joy Skelton will serve as business manager.

Case School Gives Show

Youthful actors and actresses were waiting in the wings today to appear at 7:30 tonight in the Case School Operetta at the Robert Morris High School auditorium.

More than 150 students of the school, grades two through six, will perform in the show.

The operetta is entitled "Windows of Christmas" and will feature choral groups of both boys and girls and various dance numbers.

The entire presentation is under the direction of Horace Hutchinson, director of the Morrisville high school music department. Mr. Hutchinson will be assisted by Miss Carol Dauberman.

The business end of the show is under the guidance of Mrs. Abraham Duncan and Marvin Levitt will handle the art effects for the program.

Rotary Sees Steel Film

Fifty-five Morrisville Rotary club members enjoyed the presentation last night of a U. S. Steel educational film entitled, "Treasure Chest."

Frank O'Keefe of the public relations department of the steel concern presented the film which was a story of the growth of one of America's most vital assets, the tin can.

Guests at the Rotary meeting at Pennsbury Inn included Rotary club members Robert Ruel, a Newtown and Robert Scamell of Washington Crossing and Dr. Leroy Leahy.

James Wood of the Morrisville Rotary also announced that the club will sponsor a "Kiddies Christmas party" for neighborhood children.

The youngsters will be feasted Dec. 20 from 6-9 p.m. at the cafeteria of Pennsbury High School.

Auxiliary Plans Visit To Plant

Women from the Ladies Auxiliary of Morrisville Memorial Post 6176, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will visit the LaRosa plant in Hatboro, Tuesday.

The women will leave the post home, 101 Hillcrest avenue, at 10:30 a.m. Chairman of the event is Mary Lou McCoy.

The annual auxiliary Christmas party has been listed for 7 p.m., Dec. 17, Mrs. Doris Marschner, president of the organization announced. Members can make reservations with Mrs. Marschner.

Yardley Readies Bridge Protest

Indications today pointed to a strong protest being lodged by the Yardley Borough Council with the Bridge Commission and the Pennsylvania Department of Highways over the proposed location of the washed out Yardley Bridge.

Obituary

MRS. LOUIS EDWARDS

Services for Mrs. Helen Edwards, age 47, wife of Louis Edwards, who died suddenly on Wednesday will take place tomorrow at 1 p.m. from Wesleyan Chapel Baptist Church, Wayne and Wayneview avenues, Trenton, with the Rev. Daniel Evans officiating.

Interment will be in Greenwood Cemetery under the direction of Harry Edward Perry. Friends may call this evening at the Perry funeral home, 58 Harrison avenue, Morrisville.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Edwards is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hance, Morrisville; six sons, Frank, Elwood, and Joseph, Morrisville, and Harold, Paul, and James, Trenton; five daughters, Mrs. Lillian Johnson, Mrs. Gertrude Joyner, Miss Mildred Edwards, and Miss Lorraine Edwards, all of Morrisville; a sister, Mrs. Mable Barnes, Crosswicks, and six grandchildren.

EDWARD J. KAISER

Edward J. Kaiser, 42 years, died yesterday at the University Hospital, Philadelphia following a month's illness.

Mr. Kaiser was born in Ellwood City, Pa., Jan. 16, 1914 and was a resident of 490 Lakeside drive, Levittown, for the past four years.

He was a member of the Christ Evangelical Lutheran church, Levittown. He was superintendent of American Industries company, Bristol.

He is survived by his widow, Doris M. Kaiser; two sons, Douglas and Donald; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kaiser, Ellwood City; two brothers, Michael Jr., Ellwood City and Robert of Detroit, Mich.; four sisters, Mrs. Christine Schell, Fairless Hills, Mrs. Gertrude Kuel, Ellwood City, Mrs. Mary Zekeli, Ellwood City, and Mrs. Helen Kloss, Ellwood City.

Friends will be received at the Beck-Dougherty Mortuary, Newportville - Fallsington road, to-night from 7 to 9 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to noon. Viewing also from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Christ Evangelical Lutheran church, Levittown, on Saturday followed by services, Rev. Charles E. Fair will officiate.

MRS. RICHARD H. GREEN

Mrs. Lena E. Neumann Green, wife of Richard H. Green, died suddenly yesterday at her home, 41 Gwyneth way, Nottingham Village, born in Queens, N. Y., she lived in Trenton 10 years and prior to that made her home in Morrisville for 18 years.

She also is survived by three daughters, Mrs. William Bolduc and Mrs. Joseph Hughes of Trenton and Mrs. Harlan Huff of Morrisville; a son, Richard A. of Morrisville; a brother, Albert Neumann of Levittown, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Hooper Funeral Chapel, 45 North Pennsylvania avenue, Morrisville, with the Rev. William T. Warren of the Episcopal Church of the Incarnation officiating. Interment will be in Sunset Memorial Park, Somerton. Friends may call this evening.

Makefield Pupils Slate Yule Concert

A Christmas concert will be presented by students of the Makefield Elementary school on Friday, Dec. 14 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. This will be the second of a series of annual music festivals to be given by the elementary schools of the Pennsbury schools.

The program presented by "The Makefield Melody Makers" will feature traditional Christmas music by a chorus of 100 boys and girls from the fifth and sixth grades. There will be a Junior Chorus of third grade students and a Flute Choir made up of the children from Mrs. Murphy's third grade. The choruses are under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Messinger, assisted by Miss Clair Hammond.

Choral Speaking Choir

Mrs. Clementine Ross, assisted by Miss Alice Foose and Mrs. Alberta Beatty, is directing a Choral Speaking choir, which will tell "The Christmas Story."

The Pennsbury Elementary School band which is made up of pupils from all of the Pennsbury Elementary schools, will play a variety of selections during two parts of the program. The band is under the direction of Kenneth Blyler and Gino Mule, who are in charge of the instrumental music program in the elementary schools of the Pennsbury schools.

Miss Ruth Dusch is directing the art work of the children as they prepare publicity posters and make the stage scenery and decorations. A design drawn by Penny Bair was chosen to be printed on the programs.

Matinees Planned

A matinee will be given for the primary grades on Wednesday and another matinee for the intermediate grades on Thursday.

In charge of the ticket sales is Mr. Robert Brown and Mr. Paul Peiffer, teachers of the school, assisted by the Student Council. Tickets may be purchased by contacting any pupil of the school.

Sewer Tie-Ins Nearing End

"It's just a matter of time." That was the opinion of borough secretary Bob Steward of Morrisville on the question of tying in the homes of all residents to the borough sewer line. He said that the applications for permits have been moving steadily.

"We only have about 1100 more homes to go which is less than half of the total amount involved," he said.

Before residents are eligible to file for a permit they must submit floor plans of their homes or businesses, as the case may be, to the secretary's office.

After the plans are approved, applications for connection permits allowing for tie-in with the borough line may be made. It is up to the individual to contract for the plumbing work. The only stipulation that is made is that the plumber be registered with the borough.

solve the organization. But the indications are that he is rebuilding it into a terror force under Soviet tutelage in a desperate effort to stamp out all anti-Communist opposition.

Police Seize Workers

Refugees reaching Vienna Thursday night said secret police agents arrested an undetermined number of workers leaders in Budapest as well as in provincial cities.

The Budapest Radio admitted the arrest of some members, including Geza Kovacs, chairman of the workers council of the Budapest screw factory, and Josef Meszaros, a council member. It claimed they were "Fascist elements" who "by printing and distributing leaflets and posters tried to instigate Hungarians to further resistance against the Kadar regime."

Reports that 50 members of the workers councils in Budapest had been arrested touched off Thursday's violent demonstrations.

Morrisville Vets To Meet Monday

Plans will be completed Monday night for the annual New Year's Eve party of the Morrisville Veterans Post 6176, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The group will meet at the post home, 101 Hillcrest avenue under the chairmanship of Harry M. Wilcox, post commander.

Retired Gentleman Farmer

William Kirkbride is shown outside of his farm home at Upper River Road, Yardley. The retired gentleman is 83-years-old but still keeps active in many ways. He runs a small egg business and enjoys putting around the garden. (Courier and Times Photo)

Only Six Months To Live-In 1896

83-Year-Old Egg Seller Enjoys Square Dancing

By MAURY ALLEN
Courier and Times Staff Writer

The doctor's look was serious. "My boy," he told the 23-year-old patient, "you have an incurable digestive disease. You have only six months to live."

The time was 1896.

60 Years Later

Today, 60 years, six great grandchildren, and three farms later, an 83-year-old Yardley gentleman sells eggs in Morrisville, square dances on weekends and putters in his flower garden.

"And I haven't had a belly ache since then," says William Kirkbride of Upper River road.

"The doctor said my appetite was too heavy for my size," said the pint-sized 120-pounder. "That's what was causing my trouble. I just ignored him, went on home and haven't been bothered by doctors since."

"And I eat anything I darn please now, just like I always have."

The retired farmer lives alone on a small plot of land that sits close to the Delaware River.

"Years ago I used to haul potatoes to Philadelphia by horse and wagon. The trip took me seven hours and I stayed in Philadelphia overnight and then clomped back the next day."

"Now some of these huge things you see on the highway are enough to scare a man. I drive my own panel truck but I wouldn't get behind one of them things. My old panel job takes me where I want to go. And what's more it always takes me back. What more Mr. Kirkbride was born in Langhorne and went to work when he was 14 years old.

"Those days a boy was lucky to go as far in school as I did. I saw that my four children got lots of schooling though. I have one daughter and three sons. All my boys are college graduates and two of them are teachers with PhD degrees."

"I grew up on my grandparents' farm. My mother died when I was only four days old."

Outdoor Worker

"I've always been an outdoor worker even when I worked for the highway department from '23 to '35. I just don't like an office. I can't stand the cold as good as I could then. But when it gets cold I just get inside and take it easy."

"I like taking it easy anyway. That's my pet hobby."

Mr. Kirkbride said a small favor got him the highway job.

Aided Neighbor

"Our next door neighbor got sick one time. He worked for the highway department. I came in and gathered some wood to help get his fire going real good. He had pneumonia so I guess that helped him get better."

"He offered me the highway job and wanted to put me in an office. Imagine that! But I said outside or nothing. So he fixed me up on a maintenance deal."

"I never was really happy with the highway job. I was glad when I decided to get back to the farm in 1935," he said.

Started Work At 14

60th Wedding Anniversary

"My wife got ill some time ago and I've been living alone since she's been in the hospital. We'll be celebrating our 60th wedding anniversary pretty soon."

"It gets kind of lonely but I have my little egg business and I play around the garden quite a lot. I keep busy. I drive my little panel truck over to Morrisville about twice a week after I pick up the eggs from a neighborhood farmer."

Square Dances Fun

"And boy, those square dances are fun. I don't get over to them as much as I used to. Especially when the weather is bad I like to stay home. But I can still cut up pretty good when I get a chance."

"I'm not too up on some of these modern things though. I watch TV once in awhile but I'm not too crazy about it."

Eyes Still Good

"My eyes are pretty good for a fellow my age I betcha. I sometimes have a little trouble reading a paper or a magazine. My arms are too short so I can't get the paper far enough away from me. I use glasses for that but I see real good otherwise."

Then came the inevitable question.

"Sir, to what do you owe your long life?"

"Well," he pondered "maybe it's because I never drank or caroused around. I chew tobacco and smoke cigars but I never had a cigarette in my life."

"Don't know exactly what it is but I sure know it isn't because of that foot doctor."

can a big Cadillac do?"

Ellerslie Seeks Den Mothers

The Ellerslie Civic association, Bensalem township, will discuss the coming Christmas party and possibilities of forming a Cub Pack at its monthly meeting Wednesday at 1169 Harwood road, Ellerslie.

Association Secretary Mrs. Elsie Myers said that boys are available for a Cub Pack, but more Den mothers are needed.

Anyone who is interested in becoming a Den mother may contact David Seitz, Scout liaison officer, at ME 9-1213, she said.

The annual Christmas party, scheduled for Christmas Eve, will be discussed at Wednesday's meeting, the secretary said. Interested persons are invited to attend the meeting, Mrs. Myers said.

Morrisville Street Gets Top Surface

Work was being completed today on adding a top surface to the 300 block of Cox avenue in Morrisville.

The street had been a dead end for years but was recently graded and made ready to carry traffic.

The north side of the street will serve as an entrance to Highland Park and the south side will run into Washington Heights.

Lower Makefield School Lists Students In Play

The following students will appear in the Lower Makefield Elementary school Christmas program: Donald Applestein, Robert Baker, Edward Belledin, Harry Blackman, Bruce Bowman, Eddie Bowman, John Cole, David Cook, Bill Cyphers, Chester Dalgewicz and Andy Epstein.

John Fish, Richard Ghidro, Henry Hoffmarg, Thomas Greene, John Hoffman, Henry Hoffmeister, Jack Hoyer, Steven Jurechko, Bobby Katz, John Leopold and Ronald Mackinnon.

Raymond Margerum, Edward Mottershead, Mike O'Neill, Barry Parker, Thomas Pratt, Sydney Saperstein, James Sibert, Phillip Smith, Robert Stockton, Robert Tracey and Thomas Wise.

Heather Aitken, Barbara Allen, Christina Aurich, Penny Bair, Chris Barr, Susan Betts, Janet Biner, Dorothy Black, Merelyn Black, Bonnie Bradbury, Lorraine Butterfield, Elaine Cardall, Arlene Chatto, Cheryl Coyner, Susan Daley, Pat Desmond, Carolyn Dewitt, Bernie Dull, Bette Jean Eck, Miriam Elfert, Gail Ferguson, Susan Garey, Laurie Gift and Judy Glisson.

Lily Gocolinski, Linda Granet, Andrea Gregart, Judy Gusz, Jackie Harper, Melissa Harris, Elizabeth Healy, Barbara Hersch-er, Billie Inghram, Patty Ivins, Cheryl Jetter, Patty Kahl, Nancy Kneeshaw, Joanne Kregger, Cindy Lee, Emily Lewin, Paula Lizzio, Marilyn Louis, Mary Kay Luck, Linda Lukacs, Joy Ann Mauro, Kathleen Mendrey, Carol McCormick, Gail McKenzie.

Betty McMillan, Joan McNulty, Nancy Milne, Dorinda Mobley, Diana Morgan, Renee Moss, Joyce Parker, Judy Parker, Linda Patterson, Mary Ann Heart, Lynn Purdy.

Kate Reddan, Geraldine Reddy, Roslyn Reich, Doris Reikosky, Dorothy Risdon, Donna Rockhill, Judy Rohman, Louise Roser, Susan Rossi, Veronica Rough, Margaret Row, Susan Schildkraut, Ann Schwerin, Gail Scott, Kay Serene, Barbara Shearman, Ann Shorey, Elaine Slifko, Patricia Slifko, Sandra Slusser, Sharon Taylor, Kathy Traub, Janis VanHorn, Cheryl Wall, Jane Warner and Jane Whitaker.

Firemen Slate Nomination Night

Union Fire Co. of Morrisville will nominate officers at the fire house Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. The first nominations were last week.

Engineers Look Over 4000-Ft. Site

Over 4000 feet of wooded area was surveyed yesterday by state highway engineers in connection with the proposed extension of Route 13 into Yardley.

The survey was being made at the end of the present highway site in Tullytown with transits and other elaborate engineering measuring devices.

"We're sure the extension will begin at this point. That's where the highway ends off. The only question open for discussion now is where the end of the new highway will be dumped," he said.

This is the question that has aroused residents of Yardley. The State has not definitely decided where to place the end yet, it was indicated.

"In fact we don't have any idea when the construction might begin. This survey is more for information's sake than for anything else at this time," he said.

Various Calculations

The four-man State crew made various calculations at 50-foot intervals.

The site at which the highway ends presently, is heavily sloped into a wooded area. The State men were measuring the slope and calculating how much work would be involved in building the ground up.

"One of the reasons that has caused difficulty both with the State and with the residents," the surveyor said "is because surveys made years ago are still being used for information."

Bring Up To Date

"One of our main jobs is to bring the State up to date on actual conditions of the area. State highway engineers in Harrisburg often plan the highways without actually bringing the surveyed area up to date."

"What happens is they plan the highway thinking the area is a wooded or farm area."

"All of a sudden a current survey turns up 300 homes in what once was an empty field."

"It can create problems," he said.

Sewer Line Bids Refused

It may be awhile before the borough hall of Morrisville ties in to the borough sewer line, Neal Nolan indicated today.

Mr. Nolan, chairman of the public property committee, stated that his committee has refused to accept any bids for the project. Various concerns presented their request for doing the sewer work at the committee meeting.

It was emphasized that money may be saved by having borough employees do the work.

Mr. Nolan said, "The borough has its own employees. I don't see any reason why they can't do the job instead of hiring an outside concern to build the line."

"Bids received at the committee meeting all proved too high," he said.

Now the project will be again referred to borough secretary Bob Steward, Mr. Nolan said.

It also will likely come up for consideration at the council meeting Tuesday, Mr. Nolan said.

Optimist Unit Social Is Set

The Yardley-Lower Makefield Optimist club is set for its premier annual social ball tomorrow, chairman Seward Carter reported today.

A dinner and dance at Washington Crossing Inn will begin at 7:30 p.m., the committee chairman said.

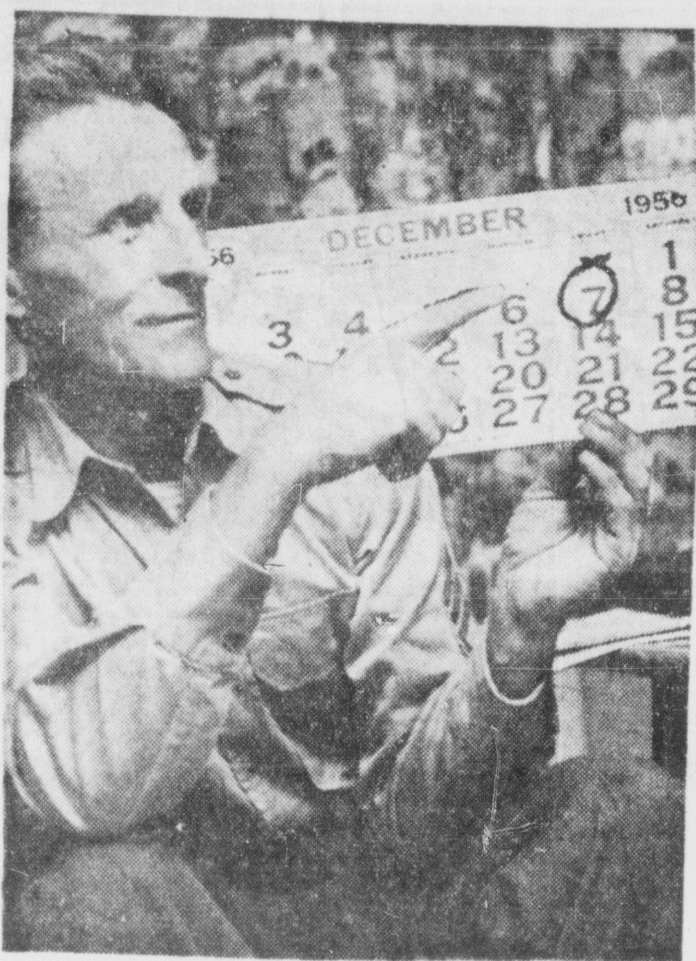

Music will be supplied by Art Brown and his orchestra and door prizes will be awarded to the ladies. The chairman stated that a capacity crowd of more than 150 members and guests is expected to attend the affair.

Committee members include Mr. Carter, Andrew Cochran, president of the club, Paul Connell and Bill Van Syckle.

Segregationist Assails Govt.

WASHINGTON — UP — John Kasper, 27-year-old organizer of a White Citizens Council, said today that he and other segregationists will "spill blood" before they accept "a creeping federal dictatorship."

Kasper called the arrest in Clinton, Tenn., of 16 segregationists on federal charges "final proof of the breakdown of law and order in the United States."

Ernest Grotz, 35, of 1230 Norton avenue, Bristol, points to his red letter day on the calendar. The sergeant was stationed at Pearl Harbor on that December 7, 1941. Each passing year dims that day from his memory but still the picture burns. An unforgettable event in the history of the world—Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941. (Courier and Times photo)

Bristolian Looks Back To Dec. 7, 1941

Japanese Dropped Breakfast 'Eggs'

By KAY BLINCOE
Courier and Times Staff Writer

Breakfast was late for Ernest Grotz 15 years ago today.

The Bristol man, his brother Elwood, and a handful of other American servicemen ate breakfast a little later than usual that Dec. 7, 1941, in Pearl Harbor.

Grotz, 35, of 1230 Norton avenue, a sergeant in the 35th Infantry Division, was standing in a chow line in the cool, misty morning. "We were getting hot pancakes and eggs off the stove and heard explosions off in the distance."

"I looked in the sky and Zeros were coming from all directions with guns chattering. I looked towards the harbor. Only smoke rose to meet the planes."

"Our planes could hardly get into the air. The Jap planes came over the ship dropping their eggs and our men as quick as we could get to our feet," the veteran said.

No Warning

"There were no sirens or any other warning. The Jap planes just came and that was all. They were there and we had to do something about it," he said.

He had entered the service in October, 1940 and had volunteered for duty in Hawaii. He made his stripes before he left the States.

"Everything stopped dead for a moment after we realized what was happening. Then the captain came over and told us that war had been declared," he said.

"It took us about an hour to get mobilized. We broke into our own supply room and got guns and ammunition and began rounding up all the Japanese civilians on the islands," he said.

"And still the planes came. The Zeros strafed the barracks, the mess halls, and anything else that happened to come into their gun-sights. The attack lasted all that day and into the night and finally let up about mid-morning on the eighth," Grotz said.

"My unit was sent into the hills to look for Jap paratroopers that we heard had landed during the night. The report turned out to be false, but we couldn't afford any doubts especially with a Jap convoy about 300 miles out. We searched the hills until daybreak," the sergeant said.

See Editorial—Page 6 "Lesson Of Pearl Harbor"

"We made ready for the enemy task force that was steaming into Pearl, but luckily, our fleet went out to meet it and was able to stop its advances. That was the battle of the Coral Sea. If we hadn't taken that battle . . .," the sergeant's voice trailed off.

"My brother Elwood was with me at the Harbor, but he was with the 27th Infantry and we didn't get to see much of each other. When the attack came, and everyone scrambled, I didn't see Elwood until 1944 after I had been mustered out of service," Grotz said.

"Funny how things like that happen, too. Elwood went right along with his unit, keeping up with us all through the early fighting. He was sent to Guadalcanal the same time I was. He was on one side of the island and I was on the other. Neither of us knew, for sure, the other was still on the line," Grotz recalled with a certain look in his eye. "Elwood's still in the Army," he said.

"I was mustered out in Oct. 1943, after the 'canal and the Solomons had been cleaned up. I'd done my share of the fighting, I guess," Sergeant Grotz said.

Others thought so, too. Sergeant Ernest Grotz was awarded the Presidential Citation, the Bronze Star, the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the Good Conduct medal, the Asian-Pacific medal, the American Theater medal, and the American Defense medal.

Veteran at 20, Grotz is now a staff sergeant with the 79th Infantry, U.S. Army Reserves. He and his wife Regina, have two children; 10-year-old Ernest, Jr., and one-year-old, Regina.

A carpenter for McCloskey Construction Co., Philadelphia, Grotz built his family's ranch-type home on Norton avenue.

Besides himself and his brother Elwood, Grotz's five other brothers are Army veterans. "William,

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

The Weather

Fair and warm today with high 65-70. Mostly cloudy and continued warm with occasional showers tonight and tomorrow. Low tonight near 50.

The Levittown Times

THE Daily Newspaper of Lower Bucks County

FINAL
★ ★ ★
EDITION

VOL. 4—No. 99

LEVITTOWN, PA., FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 7, 1956

Member A. B. C.

28 Pages

Price, Five Cents

AUTO DEALER SAFE SUSPECT CAUGHT

Philadelphia Car Salesman Apprehended

Held For Questioning
In $15,660 Robbery
At McCafferty Ford

A former Philadelphia automobile salesman was arrested today for questioning in the $15,660 safe burglary of McCafferty Ford company, Route 1, Middletown township. The suspect was picked up by Philadelphia police this morning for speeding.

State Police of the Fairless Hills sub-station and county detectives were called when city police found money, checks and automobile stickers, which were taken from McCafferty's, in the rear seat of his car.

Police also reported that the suspect was driving a stolen car. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Good Evening!

Amazing weather.

Last winter worst in years. If this one continues we'll never know we had it.

Greens and fairways should be ideal and the only fellows who should know better than Levittown's Bob Hagen and Spence Erwin are Kaiser's John Winterstein and Devon Smith.

We're pretty familiar with still another guy who very shortly is going to find out.

Fifteen years ago today. . . .

One of the most tragic days in American history, that Sunday, December 7, 1941, when Nipponese bombers devastated Pearl Harbor.

Tragic mostly because it showed how completely complacent was America in a world aflame; how completely unprepared for any eventuality, how completely confident was our military that nothing could ever happen here.

The great lesson? We can only fervently hope we have learned it for keeps.

A year ago today it was just two and a half weeks till Christmas.

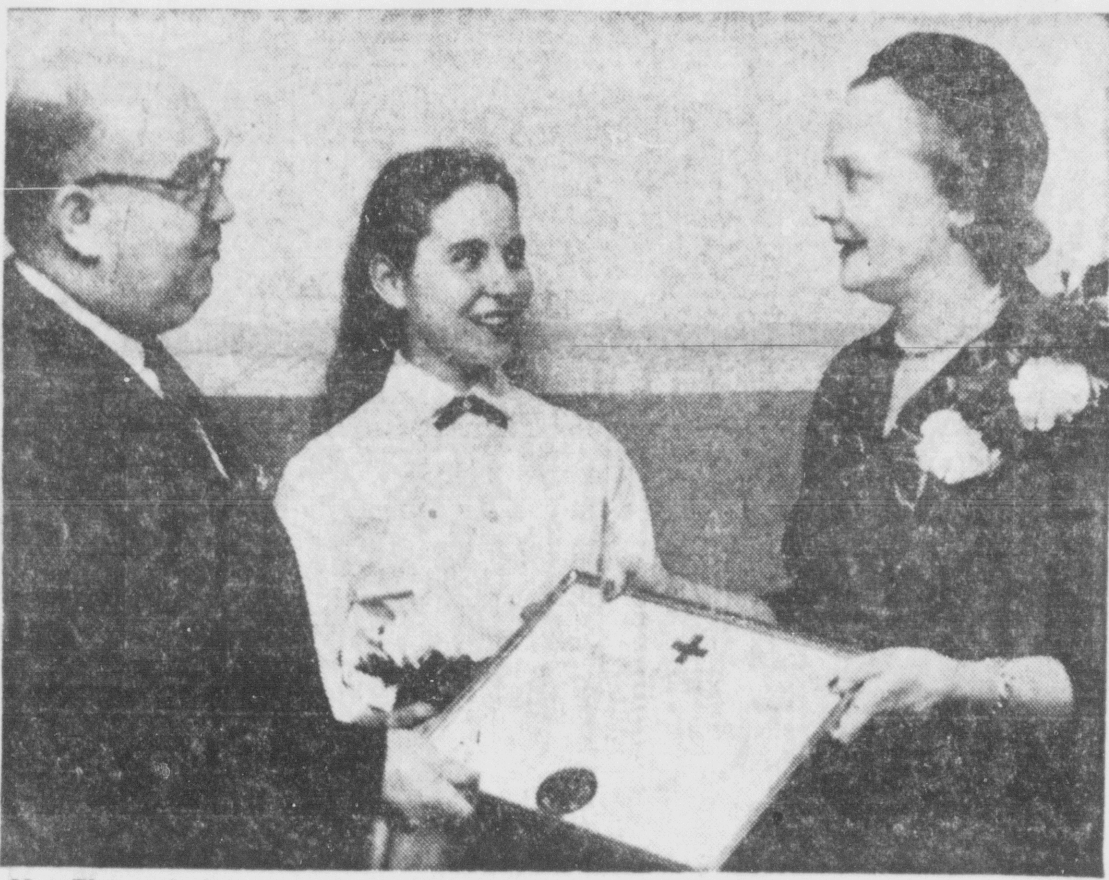

Yes sir, and here we are again and already the holiday spirit is beginning to reign supreme. But for heaven's sake, get hustling with that shopping. You realize there are only 14 more days to do it?

No question about it. A lot of the singers on TV must impress doctors as ear, nose and throat cases.

French stylist says American women are shy. If they weren't, their husbands would be.

If you're driving, watch it.

Lower Bucks Red Cross Chapter Chartered

Mrs. Thomas L. Kerney of the board of governors of the American Red Cross, presents the charter of the new Lower Bucks County chapter to Chairman Medill Bair. Looking on is Susan Katz, of Allentown, who spoke on her trip to Europe as a delegate of the American Junior Red Cross at the charter dinner last night. (Courier and Times Photo)

Lower Bucks Red Cross Chapter Receives Charter

By BOB REINHARDT
Courier and Times Staff Writer

Lower Bucks County's own American Red Cross Chapter officially came into being at a charter dinner last night, already holding a record of five months' service to the community as an independent chapter.

The charter was presented to Medill Bair, chairman of the new chapter, by Mrs. Thomas L. Kerney, of Trenton, N. J., a member of the governing board of the American Red Cross, before 100 officials and members of the new organization.

The program, held at the Edgeley Fire Hall, also featured two announced awards to area women for many years of Red Cross service to Lower Bucks County, Miss Frances Landreth, Bristol and Mrs. William W. Fabian, Newtown.

The chief speaker of the evening, 15-year-old Susan Katz, an Allentown High School student, gave an inspiring talk on her recent tour through Europe as a delegate of the Junior Red Cross and American ambassador of good will.

An officer of the Trenton Red Cross Chapter, with many years of leadership in the Red Cross and other welfare and service organizations, Mrs. Kerney brought greetings from her city as well as from National President E. Rowland Harriman and the national board. The framed charter contains the signature of President Eisenhower as well as that of Mr. Harriman.

Mr. Bair, in a telephone call to Philadelphia, received best wishes for the new chapter from Gen. Alfred Gruenther, incoming Red Cross president.

"I know that we have a real chapter here, and a working chapter," Mr. Bair said in accepting the charter. Among the most recent activities of the Red Cross chapter he cited the Hungarian Relief Campaign and the blood program.

Miss Landreth and Mrs. Fabian were unable to attend to receive their awards, which were voted unanimously by the executive committee.

Miss Landreth was hailed for her instrumental part in organizing the Lower Bucks County Branch in 1917 and her service (Continued on Page 16, Col. 8)

Twp. Studies Traffic Snarl

The Bristol Township highway committee was scheduled to meet with representatives of the state highway department and other groups at 2:30 p.m. today to discuss a plan for alleviating traffic conditions at the intersection of Route 413, State road and Old Route 13.

The meeting was set up by Eugene Kehoe, chairman of the committee. He will present a plan which has been devised by the committee.

Expected to attend the meeting were: a representative of the District office of the highway department, a representative of Rohm and Haas, Mayor Anthony T. Greski, of Burlington, and representatives of the Burlington-Bristol Bridge Commission.

Lost Missile Heading For Brazil Jungles

Air Force Unsure
Of Whereabouts Of
Runaway 'Snark'

WASHINGTON — UP — An inter-continental guided missile which escaped Air Force control was headed toward Brazil when last seen by radar, officials said today.

The missing missile, a 600-mile-an-hour Snark, was test fired Wednesday from the experimental center at Patrick Air Force Base, Cocoa, Fla. Its guidance mechanism went haywire and the Snark refused to obey radio orders to return to base.

By late morning today the Air Force still had received no word on what happened to it. If it crashed in the Brazilian jungles, as seemed likely, chances of ever finding it would be slim.

In disappearing into the wild blue, the missile apparently set a distance record. Air Force sources said the missile probably went about 3,000 miles before it crashed. This is farther than any Air Force intercontinental missile is known to have traveled on test.

The wayward missile was launched over a test range that stretches across the Caribbean into the South Atlantic off the nose of Brazil.

Destination Unknown

The Defense Department issued a brief statement shortly before midnight last night announcing that the missile escaped from control at its "scheduled turn-around point and proceeded to a destination yet unknown."

"We don't know where it is," a Pentagon spokesman said.

He said he could not confirm or deny published reports that the Snark was seen flashing over the Brazilian jungles 2,000 miles from its base.

However, he said the missile presumably has crashed either in the ocean or some remote land area and Brazil was a good possibility.

Brazilian diplomats here said they had heard nothing about the missing Snark.

The Pentagon spokesman said he had no information regarding plans to search for the missile (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Cold Weather This Weekend

Another topsy-turvy weather day is on tap for this late fall afternoon in Lower Bucks.

Cloudy skies with mild temperatures well into the 60's are expected for today, the Weather Bureau at Trenton said. Tonight will be cloudy with the thermometer falling to the 40's with a chance of light rain.

Tomorrow will turn colder with overcast skies. The weekend should be much colder with some rain expected late tomorrow and Sunday.

Hello!

Richard P. Doyle, 24 West Lincoln highway, Pennndel, gets a fine welcome. Toni King, magazine cover girl, is the pretty girl meeting him as he attends the 61st Annual Congress of American Industry, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers. He is a student at Pennsylvania State University.

'No Defense' Plea Entered By Goldfarb

By JIM MCGONIGLE
Courier and Times Staff Writer

NORRISTOWN — Dr. William L. Goldfarb entered a plea of "no defense" to one count of obtaining money under false pretenses today involving an autopsy on the body of Barbara A. Weaver, 37, Holly Drive, Levittown.

A score of Bucks County persons, including witnesses and spectators, were present at the Norristown court house in anticipation of Goldfarb's plea.

Lawrence Weaver, husband of Mrs. Weaver, testified before judges Harold G. Knight, William F. Dannehower and E. Arnold Forrest in Montgomery county court, that he approached Dr. Goldfarb, former deputy coroner of Bucks County, sometime in 1954, and inquired whether an autopsy could be performed on the body of his wife.

Weaver said that Dr. Goldfarb informed him that no facilities for the autopsy were available, and that he would be prohibited from placing the cost of the autopsy on the county.

The husband explained that he had a pathologist perform the autopsy, and that he, Weaver, was billed $100. He said Dr. Goldfarb had nothing to do with the autopsy.

H. Lamont Marsh, who was clerk of Bucks county Quarter Sessions court from 1952 through (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Hungary's Labor Warns of Tragedy

BUDAPEST — UP — Hungary's labor leaders warned the government bluntly today there will be "a general strike, bloodshed and a new national tragedy" if the current wave of arrests continues.

The warning came in a proclamation handed to puppet Premier Janos Kadar by the Central Workers Council of Budapest. It was the sharpest denunciation yet of Kadar's new "get tough" policy.

The Budapest council was scheduled to meet with Kadar in the late afternoon to get his reply. In the meantime, the tense capital remained quiet while the people waited to see what would happen.

In the uneasy calm, angry knots of men stood talking at street corners under the menace ing guns of Russian tanks. They were ready for anything following three days of demonstration.

In the severest clash, yesterday, Russian and Hungarian police clashed.

The Budapest council was scheduled to meet with Kadar in the late afternoon to get his reply. In the meantime, the tense capital remained quiet while the people waited to see what would happen.

(Continued On Page 17)

How Good Is The Team That Beat Bristol Last Year?

● Remember Fountain Hill High school? It's basketball team defeated Bristol last year in the state finals. Its prospects are given for the season by Dick Dougherty, Courier and Times sports writer. Page 18.

● Happy Birthday. Eight of them, to be exact, in a picture strip in our society section. Page 15.

INDEX

Amusement	22
Classified	22, 23, 24, 25
Comics	26, 27
Dr. Brady	6
Dr. Crane	6
Earl Wilson	6
Editorials	6
Fred Othman	6
Junior Reporter	27
Obituaries	3
TV	26
Social Club News	14, 15
Sports	18, 19

Cornerstone Laying Rites Conducted At Two Schools

Cornerstone Laying

Sewage Unit Set For New Levittown

The Committee of Willingboro township, N. J., took action this week to set up a sewerage authority for the planned Levittown, N. J.

The authority will consist of five members with salaries not to exceed $1000 a year, according to township Solicitor Sidney W. Bookbinder.

The committee passed on first reading an amendment to the township zoning ordinance which would rezone all agricultural land in the township into residential and another that would set up as commercial a strip of land from Ott's Motel, Rt. 130, along the highway to Bridgeboro.

Safe Suspect Apprehended

(Continued from Page One) at the time of his arrest. It was also stated that the suspect was formerly employed as a salesman for a Philadelphia automobile agency.

Col. Andrew Kutney, of State Police, and County Detective Clarence Irwin, brought the suspect back from Philadelphia late this morning.

Used Crow Bar

The money was stolen from the automobile agency Wednesday night or Thursday morning.

The burglar or burglars used a crow bar to pry open the five-foot high safe. Police Chief Howard C. Shook said it must have taken two-and-a-half to three hours to crack the safe.

Police reported the safe-crackers made off with an estimated $14,600 in checks, and $1060 in cash.

When Philadelphia police notified Kutney that they had picked up the suspect, the State Police Corporal swore out a warrant for his arrest before JP William Oettinger.

Oettinger said the warrant was sworn out for a John Joseph Cuff, of 1021 West Orleans street, Philadelphia, on a charge of burglary. Armed with the warrant, Kutney and Irwin went to Philadelphia and picked up the suspect. As of 2 p.m. no hearing had been held or scheduled for the suspect.

'No Defense'

(Continued from Page One)

1935, testified that Dr. Goldfarb submitted a $75 bill to him for the non-existent county autopsy on the body of Mrs. Weaver.

He said the bill by the deputy coroner was approved by him as a matter of routine and submitted to the county treasurer's office for payment.

The pathologist who performed the autopsy on the Weaver body testified that she never billed Goldfarb for it and the only payment she received was from Weaver himself.

District attorney Donald W. VanArtsdalen informed the judges prior to the arraignment that there are 15 bills of indictment against Goldfarb.

At least another score of witnesses were expected to testify in the case this afternoon including character witnesses for Goldfarb.

Goldfarb, free on $1500 bail, is represented by attorney Thomas C. McBride, Philadelphia, who was recently appointed Pennsylvania attorney general and Attorney Morris Gerber, Norristown.

Watson

(Continued from Page One)

election to the Senate in 1947. He served two years as Bucks County Republican Chairman.

Sen. Watson is chairman of the Senate committee on executive nominations, vice chairman of the appropriations committee, and a member of the agricultural, forests and waters, game and fish, highway, insurance, labor and industry and state government committees. For six years he has been chairman of the Interstate Cooperative, the only Republican office holder to serve on that committee.

Missile

(Continued from Page One)

except to say "We always try to get them back."

Not the First Lost

He said the Air Force has lost a number of Snarks in tests from Florida.

The 72-foot long Snark—a sleek, red pilotless bomber designed to carry an atomic warhead over intercontinental distances—has been flown over distances of 2,000 miles.

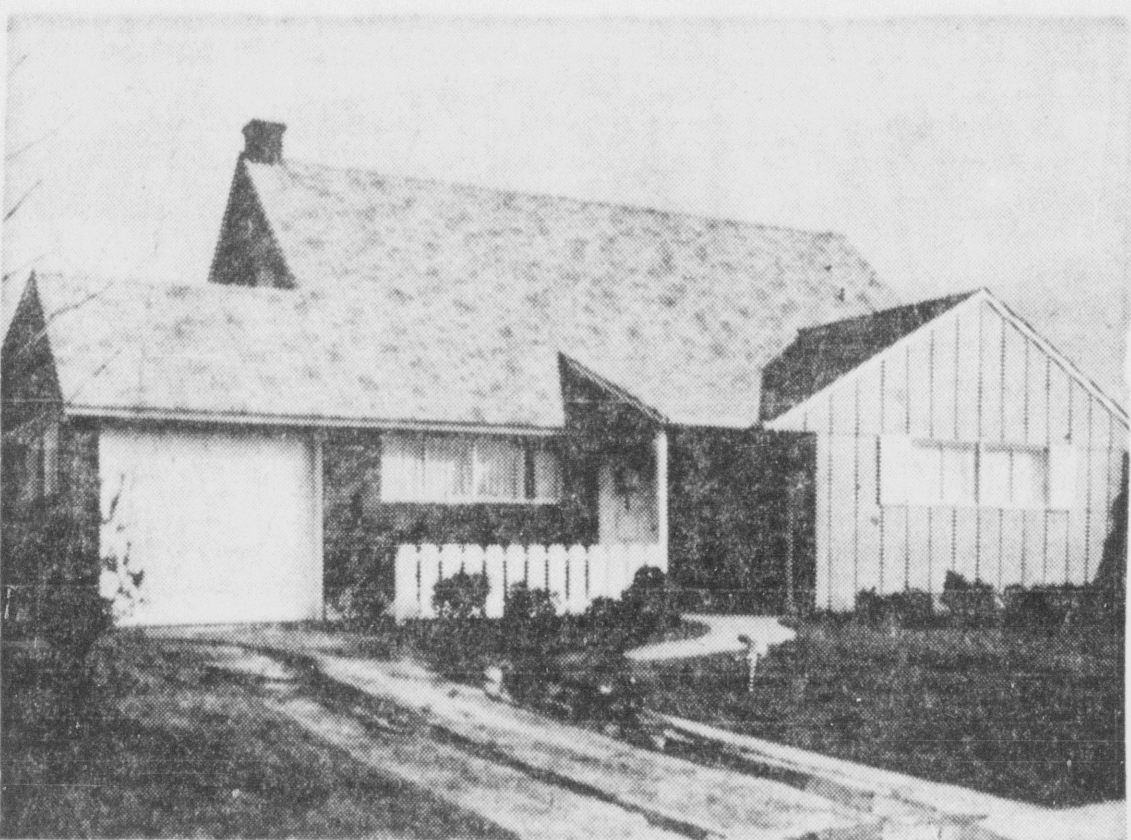

The Levittown Times

THE DAILY Newspaper of Lower Bucks

Friday Evening, December 7, 1956

Second Front Page

New Home At New Exhibit

The New Pennsylvanian is ready for public viewing at the Levittown Route 413 exhibit which will be open tomorrow.

New Homes Show At Levittown Exhibit

A new housing exhibit with four sample homes ranging in price from $10,500 to $19,500 will open at Levittown tomorrow. It was announced by Levitt and Sons, Inc. The new exhibit is located on Route 413, the western boundary of the pre-planned community, about half a mile south of U.S. Route 1.

A star attraction, the display features the $14,000 Pennsylvanian, a new house opening to the public for the first time this weekend. Other houses in the exhibit are the famous $11,990 Jubilee (available for 10,500 with unfinished second floor), the one-story $11,750 Levittowner, and the luxurious Country Clubber, re-designed and enlarged to sell at $19,500.

The Courier and Times reported on Tuesday that the center was expected to open shortly, and carried a complete description of each of the four homes, including the new Pennsylvanian.

The new exhibit, according to spokesmen for Levitt and Sons, Inc., offers the most diversified display of sample homes in the history of the building firm.

The Pennsylvanian represents the Levitt firm's first entry in the $14,000-$16,000 price field, the most rapidly growing category in the housing industry.

Extra Large Bedrooms
The four-bedroom, two-bath Pennsylvanian, planned to provide advance features generally found only in luxury-priced homes, offers exceptionally large rooms, abundant closet and storage space, and sliding glass doors in the living-dining area for indoor-outdoor living. This floor-to-ceiling window wall, measuring 16 feet of heavy-duty Thermopane, opens directly to a 24-foot patio.

Another highlight of the home is the all-electric kitchen with its labor-saving layout of appliances, built-in snack bar and pass-through to the dining room. Measurements of the three main bedrooms are 14 by 19 feet, 12 by 18 feet, and 11 by 17 feet. The fourth bedroom, 10 by 12 feet, is conveniently located for use as a study or TV room.

For inside storage, the house has five regular closets, two walk-in closets, plus a second floor storage vault of about 80 square feet. The two bathrooms, one on each floor, are finished in real ceramic tile and each has a built-in vanity and clothes hamper.

U-Shaped Kitchen
The kitchen, designed in a compact U-shape to provide step-saving efficiency, has a built-in wall oven, table-top range, 12 cubic foot refrigerator with magnetic door, filter-flo clothes washer.

Channel State Funds
The school, sponsored by the American Association of University Women, can accommodate 44 children in nursery classes and the same number in kindergarten classes.

Tom Thumb Nursery Has Openings
Beginning with the January session, the Tom Thumb Nursery and Kindergarten will have openings for new enrollment.

Parents interested in sending their children can contact Mrs. Jean Harrell, at WI 5-1309.

The school, sponsored by the American Association of University Women, can accommodate 44 children in nursery classes and the same number in kindergarten classes.

Channel State Funds
Dr. Humphreys asserted that state funds must be channeled back into the community, rather than solely into state hospitals. He pointed out, however, that hospitals will face the problem with far more hope than ever thought possible because of new drugs, and new progress in diagnosis and treatment. The new, state sponsored, mental health program, he declared, will "make a big dent in the waiting list of people seeking aid for

Seeing Levittown

By JIM ORT

A group of men from the Elderberry section are planning to throw a New Year's Eve party for their wives. A night of good fun is planned. Frank Tanner, Lou Belevita, Vince Ratti, Gene Chadwick, Bill Givney, George Kohlbrenner, Walt Krier, Tom Schwartz, and Charlie Riley are making the arrangements.

Several youngsters from the Mill Creek section will entertain residents with carols on Christmas Eve. They call themselves the "Christmas Jesters" and will donate any contributions they receive that night to the Bucks County Rescue Squad.

Heard of a heart warming story about a ten-year-old girl in the Appletree section. It seems this girl's brother is currently in an industrial school, and she offers a Christmas prayer about 15 times a day praying for his return home by the holidays. She wants no toys for Christmas, only her brother. She keeps telling her mother, "It gotta happen, it gotta happen!"

A four-month-old boxer puppy belonging to Mr. and Mrs. John Winter, 77 Whitewood drive, struck out to see the world last night. The pooch answers to the name of "Duke", and is a fawn color with white markings on its face, chest and feet. If you've seen the pup, give the Winter's a call.

P. S. The other day, we noted that Barbara Bamford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bamford, 20 Border Rock road, Blue Ridge, came down with the chicken pox and mumps. Well, Steven, her four-year-old brother, broke out with chicken pox the other day. Mike, age two, picked up the measles, and Mrs. Bamford gave birth Monday, to a baby girl.

Channel State Funds

200 Hear Community Is Focus Of Mental Health

"In mental health, the planning must come from the home, neighborhood, and the community," said a national mental health leader to a crowd of 200 persons last night.

Dr. Edward J. Humphreys, director of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Mental Health Services for Children, in Harrisburg, addressing a mental health meeting in the Samuel Everitt school, Trenton road, Levittown, said the community is now the focus of the problem and the planning must come from there.

Chapter Program
Mrs. Eleanor Elkins, of the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children, discussed the program of the chapter.

The meeting was co-sponsored by the Bucks County Mental Health Society and the Bucks County Chapter of the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children.

During a question and answer period following Dr. Humphreys' address, specific problems in Bucks County were discussed.

Representatives from area civic organizations were present. Rabbi Robert Bergman, spiritual leader of Temple Shalom, Levittown, gave the invocation to open the session.

French Official Is Main Speaker At Program

Bristol Township and Delhaas school authorities held cornerstone laying ceremonies for the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school and the Lafayette elementary school yesterday.

Raoul Pelmont, of the French embassy, was the main speaker at Lafayette school program. He told the group it was "gratifying" to see that Americans held a Frenchman in such high esteem as to name a school after him despite the present world situation.

Stanley B. Dick, administrator of the Benjamin Franklin school, presided over the program held at 11 a.m. in the auditorium.

Introduce Guests

Dr. Guy F. Eberhardt, Regional superintendent of Delhaas and Bristol Township schools, introduced various guests to the students.

He praised the part played by Walter Miller, former superintendent, in making the school a reality. Mr. Miller, who resigned recently, was largely responsible for planning the school and having it built. Dr. Eberhardt also introduced Henry B. Decker, administrative assistant, who worked with Mr. Miller on the Franklin and other schools.

Other guests introduced included Harry Barth, former president of the Delhaas and Bristol Township School boards; Robert McDonald.

The Eastern Pennsylvania locals nominating McDonald and other top incumbents, were 2177, Bethlehem Steel, 2326, Stanley Flagg Co., 2470, New England Auto Products Co., 4998, Mayer Pollack Co., and 5348, Piersol-Pine company.

Levittowner In Crash

Two buses crashed on the Benjamin Franklin Bridge from Philadelphia to Camden, N.J., Wednesday night when the driver of the first bus attempted to avoid hitting the disabled car of Joseph G. Stein, 34, of 47 Farmbrook drive, Levittown. His bus was hit in the rear by a second bus.

Special Feature

A special feature was the attendance of James R. LaRue, of 803 Radcliffe street, Bristol. Mr. LaRue was born in 1873 on the farm which included the site of the school. He has lived in the area since. His grandson, Lloyd LaRue Betts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Betts Jr., now attends seventh grade at the school.

After the ceremonies in the auditorium, the entire student body and officials moved outside, to the cornerstone.

Deposit Articles
Students and officials deposited various articles in a copper box in the cornerstone.

They were: Fred Smith, president of the student council, put in a list of students on the rolls on Feb. 6, 1856, the day of entry in the school; Arnold Katz, president of the presidents council, a copy of the 1955-56 student handbook; Bess Valtimo, president of ninth grade class, copy of the Bristol Courier, the Philadelphia Inquirer and this week's cafeteria menu; Mrs. Ada Hopkins, acting secretary of the Parent-Teachers-Students Association, placed a bible; Julius Gouza, president of the Delhaas Father's Association, a flag; Dianne Dettmer, editor of the Almanack, put in a copy of the school newspaper, and the yearbook; Mr. Micklewright a copy of the floor plans, and Mr. Decker a copy of the Pennsylvania Economy League's report on the Township schools.

The school band, under the direction of Walter Freed, played the Star Spangled Banner.

2 O'Clock Ceremonies

Ceremonies at the Lafayette school were held at 2 p.m. on the school grounds.

Paula Katzman, Frank Spiegel, Cathy Walterick, Cullen Fisher, and Leslie Harmon, all students, raised the flag.

Dr. Eberhardt introduced Robert Krebs, director of Elementary Education, Miss Ruth Trauger, elementary supervisor; Mr. Miller and Mr. Decker.

The Children's Chorus, directed by Dr. Ralph Horning, music consultant, presented several selections, and the school orchestra played several numbers.

FIREMEN BAKE SALE
Members of Bristol Consolidated Fire Company will hold a bake sale in the fire station, Pond and Merry streets, tomorrow, starting at 10 a.m.

Five Eastern Locals Back MacDonald

PITTSBURGH — UP — Two more Pittsburgh area locals of the United Steelworkers have endorsed rebel candidates for top offices at the union's general election in February.

In Eastern Pennsylvania, five locals in the area around Pottstown voted support for the present USW international leadership, headed by president David J. McDonald.

The latest locals to endorse the rebel rank-and-file candidates were Local 2837, Pittsburgh Coke and Chemical Co., and Local 1537, Latrobe Steel Co.

They voted last night to back Don C. Rarick, chairman of the Dues Protest Committee, as president, Edward Revak as vice president and William Klug, of Milwaukee, as secretary-treasurer.

The Eastern Pennsylvania locals nominating McDonald and other top incumbents, were 2177, Bethlehem Steel, 2326, Stanley Flagg Co., 2470, New England Auto Products Co., 4998, Mayer Pollack Co., and 5348, Piersol-Pine company.

Levittowner In Crash

Two buses crashed on the Benjamin Franklin Bridge from Philadelphia to Camden, N.J., Wednesday night when the driver of the first bus attempted to avoid hitting the disabled car of Joseph G. Stein, 34, of 47 Farmbrook drive, Levittown. His bus was hit in the rear by a second bus.

Special Feature

A special feature was the attendance of James R. LaRue, of 803 Radcliffe street, Bristol. Mr. LaRue was born in 1873 on the farm which included the site of the school. He has lived in the area since. His grandson, Lloyd LaRue Betts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Betts Jr., now attends seventh grade at the school.

After the ceremonies in the auditorium, the entire student body and officials moved outside, to the cornerstone.

Deposit Articles
Students and officials deposited various articles in a copper box in the cornerstone.

They were: Fred Smith, president of the student council, put in a list of students on the rolls on Feb. 6, 1856, the day of entry in the school; Arnold Katz, president of the presidents council, a copy of the 1955-56 student handbook; Bess Valtimo, president of ninth grade class, copy of the Bristol Courier, the Philadelphia Inquirer and this week's cafeteria menu; Mrs. Ada Hopkins, acting secretary of the Parent-Teachers-Students Association, placed a bible; Julius Gouza, president of the Delhaas Father's Association, a flag; Dianne Dettmer, editor of the Almanack, put in a copy of the school newspaper, and the yearbook; Mr. Micklewright a copy of the floor plans, and Mr. Decker a copy of the Pennsylvania Economy League's report on the Township schools.

The school band, under the direction of Walter Freed, played the Star Spangled Banner.

2 O'Clock Ceremonies

Ceremonies at the Lafayette school were held at 2 p.m. on the school grounds.

Paula Katzman, Frank Spiegel, Cathy Walterick, Cullen Fisher, and Leslie Harmon, all students, raised the flag.

Dr. Eberhardt introduced Robert Krebs, director of Elementary Education, Miss Ruth Trauger, elementary supervisor; Mr. Miller and Mr. Decker.

The Children's Chorus, directed by Dr. Ralph Horning, music consultant, presented several selections, and the school orchestra played several numbers.

FIREMEN BAKE SALE
Members of Bristol Consolidated Fire Company will hold a bake sale in the fire station, Pond and Merry streets, tomorrow, starting at 10 a.m.

Margaret Rago, sixth grade student at the Lafayette elementary school, holds a trowel full of mortar to put on the cornerstone of the school in ceremonies yesterday. Helping Margaret is Miss Mary Hogarty, a teacher; watching in the rear is Mrs. Robert Barnett, president of the Parent-Teachers Association.

Four Find Cards Are Stacked In Detective Game

PHILADELPHIA UP — The cards were stacked heavily today against three New Yorkers and a Philadelphia who unwittingly invited four detectives into a card game after allegedly fleeing a discharged soldier on a New York to Philadelphia Pennsylvania Railroad train.

Charged with gambling and larceny were Charles Herter, 49; Frank Tambone, 36; and John Kobinetz, 42, all of Manhattan, and John Winfield, 65, of 1117 Bainbridge street, Philadelphia.

Police said Herter and Tambone gave New York street addresses which apparently were non-existent.

Invite Detectives
The four were taken into custody yesterday when they invited the four detectives into a game

82 Hungarian Athletes Start Back In Tears

MELBOURNE — UP — Eighty-two tear-streaked Hungarian athletes boarded a chartered French airplane bound for their homeland tonight, but many planned to disembark somewhere in Europe to avoid returning to Budapest.

Customs officials said the airliner, carrying nearly half the 176-member Hungarian Olympic delegation, left Melbourne for Budapest by way of the Middle East and Italy.

There were many scenes of emotion as the wet-eyed, arm-waving Hungarians bid farewell to their Australian friends and their teammates who elected to seek sanctuary outside the Iron Curtain.

Off to the United Nations

Waving goodbye as they board bus for a one day trip to the United Nations are: Joan Grant, Barbara Chenava, Loretta Hauck and Ann Jacquin, all eleventh grade pupils of Delhaas high school. About 70 students made the trip yesterday in the company of four teachers. (Courier and Times Photo)

Symposium Slated By Temple Units

"Progressive Judaism in the Making" will be the theme of a symposium featuring the Rabbi and officers of Temple Shalom and its subsidiary groups at Sabbath evening services tonight at 8:30 in Temple Shalom, Edgemoor road off Mill Creek Parkway.

Rabbi Robert Bergman and Cantor David Wisnia and the Temple choir under the direction of Theodore Jack will officiate.

The symposium will be followed during the Oneg Shabbat social hour by a discussion of the institutions of Reform Judaism.

No Religious School

No religious School classes will be held at Temple Shalom this Saturday or Sunday in view of the Temple school's Hanukkah recess.

Regular Sabbath morning services will be conducted by the Confirmation Department as usual on Saturday at 11 a.m.

Fire Sweeps 'El' Train

CHICAGO — UP — Fire swept through two wooden cars of an elevated train crowded with suburbanites bound for work early today, killing one person and injuring scores.

It was the second major accident on Chicago's elevated railway system in five weeks.

Authorities believed an explosion touched off the fire and electrocuted the motorman before the flames spread back through the lead car of the Evanston special bound for downtown Chicago.

"There were people jumping everywhere, onto the tracks," Saul Friedman, 40, 327 Greenleaf, Wilmette, said. "The first car was all in flames."

Bulletin

Slaying Solved

PHILADELPHIA — UP — Police Inspector John J. Kelly said today that detectives have solved the cold-blooded slaying of a businessman who unwittingly walked into the midst of a teenage gang war in front of a North Philadelphia bank. The inspector did not point the killer, but made his statement after questioning 16 juveniles and completing ballistics tests on weapons taken from the teenagers in a mass roundup of suspects.

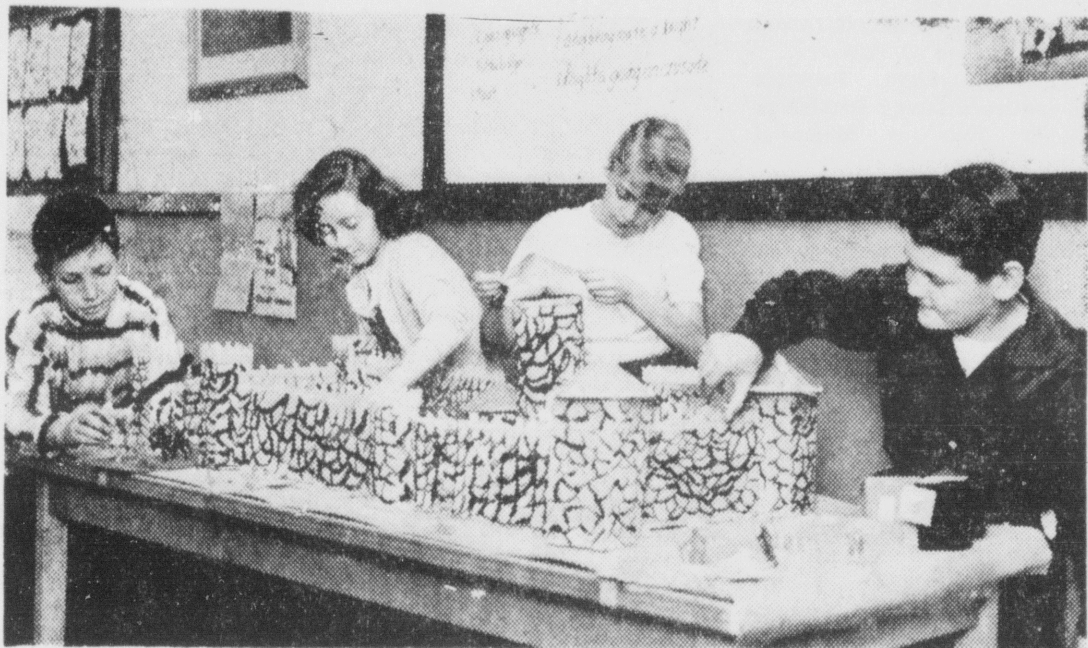

Philippines Win

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. UP — The Philippines, with the backing of the United States, won a first-ballot victory over Russian-backed Czechoslovakia today for a place in the United Nations Security Council.

Morrisville • Yardley • Makefield

State Starts Survey Work On Proposed Route 13 Extension

Castle By Youngsters

Students of the Manor Park School in Morrisville built a replica of a middle age castle as a class project. The class is a sixth grade group under the direction of Mrs. Creasy. Putting the finishing touches on the subject are (from left): Richard Marshall, Joanne Widmann, Sandra Laypo, and Dennis Coble. (Courier and Times Photo)

Makefield Pupils Slate Yule Concert

A Christmas concert will be presented by students of the Makefield Elementary school on Friday, Dec. 14 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. This will be the second of a series of annual music festivals to be given by the elementary schools of the Pennsylvania schools.

The program presented by "The Makefield Melody Makers" will feature traditional Christmas music by a chorus of 100 boys and girls from the fifth and sixth grades. There will be a Junior Chorus of third grade students and a Flute Choir made up of the children from Mrs. Murphy's third grade. The choruses are under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Messinger, assisted by Miss Clair Hammond.

Choral Speaking Choir
Mrs. Clementine Ross, assisted by Miss Alice Foose and Mrs. Alberta Beatty, is directing a Choral Speaking choir, which will tell "The Christmas Story."

The Pennsylvania Elementary School band which is made up of pupils from all of the Pennsylvania Elementary schools, will play a variety of selections during two parts of the program. The band is under the direction of Kenneth Blyler and Gino Mule, who are in charge of the instrumental music program in the elementary schools of the Pennsylvania schools.

Miss Ruth Dusch is directing the art work of the children as they prepare publicity posters and make the stage scenery and decorations. A design drawn by Penny Bair was chosen to be printed on the programs.

Matinee Planned
A matinee will be given for the primary grades on Wednesday and another matinee for the intermediate grades on Thursday. In charge of the ticket sales is Mr. Robert Brown and Mr. Paul Peiffer, teachers of the school, assisted by the Student Council. Tickets may be purchased by contacting any pupil of the school.

Retired Gentleman Farmer

William Kirkbride is shown outside of his farm home at Upper River Road, Yardley. The retired gentleman is 83-years-old but still keeps active in many ways. He runs a small egg business and enjoys putting around the garden. (Courier and Times Photo)

Only Six Months To Live-In 1896

83-Year-Old Egg Seller Enjoys Square Dancing

By MAURY ALLEN
Courier and Times Staff Writer

The doctor's look was serious. "My boy," he told the 23-year-old patient, "you have an incurable digestive disease. You have only six months to live."

The time was 1896. 60 Years Later

Today, 60 years, six great grandchildren, and three farms later, an 83-year-old Yardley gentleman sells eggs in Morrisville, square dances on weekends and putters in his flower garden.

"And I haven't had a belly ache since then," says William Kirkbride of Upper River road.

"The doctor said my appetite was too heavy for my size," said the pint-sized 120-pounder. "That's what was causing my trouble. I just ignored him, went on home and haven't been bothered by doctors since."

"And I eat anything I darn please now, just like I always have."

The retired farmer lives alone on a small plot of land that sits close to the Delaware River.

"Years ago I used to haul potatoes to Philadelphia by horse and wagon. The trip took me seven hours and I stayed in Philadelphia overnight and then clomped back the next day."

"Now some of these huge things you see on the highway are enough to scare a man. I drive my own panel truck but I wouldn't get behind one of them things. My old panel job takes me where I want to go. And what's more it always takes me back. What more Mr. Kirkbride was born in Langhorne and went to work when he was 14 years old.

"Those days a boy was lucky to go as far in school as I did. I saw that my four children got lots of schooling though. I have one daughter and three sons. All my boys are college graduates and two of them are teachers with PhD degrees."

"I grew up on my grand-parents' farm. My mother died when I was only four days old."

Outdoor Worker

"I've always been an outdoor worker even when I worked for the highway department from '23 to '35. I just don't like an office. I can't stand the cold as good as I could then. But when it gets cold I just get inside and take it easy."

"I like taking it easy anyway. That's my pet hobby."

Mr. Kirkbride said a small favor got him the highway job.

Aided Neighbor

"Our next door neighbor got sick one time. He worked for the highway department. I came in and gathered some wood to help get his fire going real good. He had pneumonia so I guess that helped him get better."

"He offered me the highway job and wanted to put me in an office. Imagine that! But I said outside or nothing. So he fixed me up on a maintenance deal."

"I never was really happy with the highway job. I was glad when I decided to get back to the farm in 1935," he said.

60th Wedding Anniversary

"My wife got ill some time ago and I've been living alone since she's been in the hospital. We'll be celebrating our 60th wedding anniversary pretty soon."

"It gets kind of lonely but I have my little egg business and I play around the garden quite a lot. I keep busy. I drive my little panel truck over to Morrisville about twice a week after I pick up the eggs from a neighborhood farmer."

Square Dances Fun

"And boy, those square dances are fun. I don't get over to them as much as I used to. Especially when the weather is bad I like to stay home. But I can still cut up pretty good when I get a chance."

"I'm not too up on some of these modern things though. I watch TV once in awhile but I'm not too crazy about it."

Eyes Still Good

"My eyes are pretty good for a fellow my age I betcha. I sometimes have a little trouble reading a paper or a magazine. My arms are too short so I can't get the paper far enough away from me. I use glasses for that but I see real good otherwise."

Then came the inevitable question. "Sir, to what do you owe your long life?"

"Well," he pondered "maybe it's because I never drank or caroused around. I chew tobacco and smoke cigars but I never had a cigarette in my life."

"Don't know exactly what it is but I sure know it isn't because of that fool doctor." can a big Cadillac do?"

Started Work At 14

Engineers Look Over 4000-Ft. Site

Over 4000 feet of wooded area was surveyed yesterday by state highway engineers in connection with the proposed extension of Route 13 into Yardley.

The survey was being made at the end of the present highway site in Tullytown with transits and other elaborate engineering measuring devices.

"We're sure the extension will begin at this point. That's where the highway ends off. The only question open for discussion now is where the end of the new highway will be dumped," he said.

This is the question that has aroused residents of Yardley. The State has not definitely decided where to place the end yet, it was indicated.

"In fact we don't have any idea when the construction might begin. This survey is more for information's sake than for anything else at this time," he said.

Various Calculations

The four-man State crew made various calculations at 50-foot intervals.

The site at which the highway ends presently, is heavily sloped into a wooded area. The State men were measuring the slope and calculating how much work would be involved in building the ground up.

"One of the reasons that has caused difficulty both with the State and with the residents," the surveyor said "is because surveys made years ago are still being used for information."

Bring Up To Date

"One of our main jobs is to bring the State up to date on actual conditions of the area. State highway engineers in Harrisburg often plan the highways without actually bringing the surveyed area up to date."

"What happens is they plan the highway thinking the area is a wooded or farm area."

"All of a sudden a current survey turns up 300 homes in what once was an empty field."

"It can create problems," he said.

Sewer Line Bids Refused

It may be awhile before the borough hall of Morrisville ties in to the borough sewer line, Neal Nolan indicated today.

Mr. Nolan, chairman of the public property committee, stated that his committee has refused to accept any bids for the project. Various concerns presented their request for doing the sewer work at the committee meeting.

It was emphasized that money may be saved by having borough employees do the work.

Mr. Nolan said, "The borough has its own employees. I don't see any reason why they can't do the job instead of hiring an outside concern to build the line."

"Bids received at the committee meeting all proved too high," he said.

Now the project will be again referred to borough secretary Bob Steward, Mr. Nolan said.

It also will likely come up for consideration at the council meeting Tuesday, Mr. Nolan said.

Optimist Unit Social Is Set

The Yardley-Lower Makefield Optimist club is set for its premier annual social ball tomorrow, chairman Seward Carter reported today.

A dinner and dance at Washington Crossing Inn will begin at 7:30 p.m., the committee chairman said.

Music will be supplied by Art Brown and his orchestra and door prizes will be awarded to the ladies. The chairman stated that a capacity crowd of more than 130 members and guests is expected to attend the affair.

Committee members include Mr. Carter, Andrew Cochran, president of the club, Paul Connel and Bill Van Syckle.

Segregationist Assails Govt.

WASHINGTON — UP — John Kasper, 27-year-old organizer of a White Citizens Council, said today that he and other segregationists will "spill blood" before they accept "a creeping federal dictatorship."

Kasper called the arrest in Clinton, Tenn., of 16 segregationists on federal charges "final proof of the breakdown of law and order in the United States."

Big Yearbook Is Promised At Morrisville

Plans for the "biggest and best ever" school yearbook were announced today by James Wood of Morrisville High School.

The book will be published in sections on the senior class, home and it will be the largest yearbook ever published at the school, Mr. Wood said.

It will include a review of the year's activities including special sections on the senior class, sports, school activities, sports, and classroom work.

An added attraction this year will be the summer supplement. This will list all activities scheduled after the book is released.

The theme of this year's publication is "Modern Age."

Janet Adams has been appointed editor-in-chief of the publication. Mary Ellen Kane is associate editor, and Joy Skelton will serve as business manager.

Case School Gives Show

Youthful actors and actresses were waiting in the wings today to appear at 7:30 tonight in the Case School Operetta at the Robert Morris High School auditorium.

More than 150 students of the school, grades two through six, will perform in the show.

The operetta is entitled "Windows of Christmas" and will feature choral groups of both boys and girls and various dance numbers.

The entire presentation is under the direction of Horace Hutchinson, director of the Morrisville high school music department. Mr. Hutchinson will be assisted by Miss Carol Dauberman.

The business end of the show is under the guidance of Mrs. Abraham Duncan and Marvin Levitt will handle the art effects for the program.

Rotary Sees Steel Film

Fifty-five Morrisville Rotary club members enjoyed the presentation last night of a U. S. Steel educational film entitled, "Treasure Chest."

Frank O'Keefe of the public relations department of the steel concern presented the film which was a story of the growth of one of America's most vital assets, the tin can.

Guests at the Rotary meeting at Pennslyn Inn included Rotary club members Robert Ruhl, a Newtown and Robert Scamell of Washington Crossing and Dr. Leroy Leahy.

James Wood of the Morrisville Rotary also announced that the club will sponsor a "Kiddies Christmas party" for neighborhood children.

The youngsters will be feted Dec. 26 from 6-9 p.m. at the cafeteria of Pennslyn High School.

Auxiliary Plans Visit To Plant

Women from the Ladies Auxiliary of Morrisville Memorial Post 6176, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will visit the LaRosa plant in Harboro, Tuesday.

The women will leave the post home, 101 Hillcrest avenue, at 10:30 a.m. Chairman of the event is Mary Lou McCoy.

Yardley Readies Bridge Protest

Indications today pointed to a strong protest being lodged by the Yardley Borough Council with the Bridge Commission and the Pennsylvania Department of Highways over the proposed location of the washed out Yardley Bridge.

Frederick T. Bebbington, borough secretary said, "Officially we haven't heard anything. The only thing we know about the location of the bridge is what we have read in the newspapers."

"It seems that the project will be an undertaking of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways rather than the Bridge Commission."

"If this is so, the borough council may draft a resolution at the next meeting to both the State and the Bridge Commission opposing the action."

Yardley's borough council is set to discuss the matter Monday at the Borough Hall in the regular monthly session of the council.

Historical Sites
The problem has been further aggravated by the fact that the approaches to the bridge as well as the bridge itself will cause shifts in various historical and sentimental landmarks in the area.

Included among the buildings that may have to be moved out of the way are the historic Yardley home and the Yardley Public Library.

Present State plans call for the bridge to be constructed 400 feet north of Afton avenue with approaches running parallel to it.

A State report said that approaches to the bridge along River Road in Yardley will be 14 feet above the present level of the road. Early plans call for a ramp type of approach being built to the bridge.

EDWARD J. KAISER

Edward J. Kaiser, 42 years, died yesterday at the University Hospital, Philadelphia following a month's illness.

Mr. Kaiser was born in Ellwood City, Pa., Jan. 16, 1914 and was a resident of 490 Lakeside drive, Levittown, for the past four years.

He was a member of the Christ Evangelical Lutheran church, Levittown. He was superintendent of American Industries company, Bristol.

He is survived by his widow, Doris M. Kaiser; two sons, Douglas and Donald; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kaiser, Ellwood City; two brothers, Michael Jr., Ellwood City and Robert of Detroit, Mich.; four sisters, Mrs. Christine Schell, Fairless Hills, Mrs. Gertrude Kuel, Ellwood City, Mrs. Mary Zekel, Ellwood City, and Mrs. Helen Kloss, Ellwood City.

Friends will be received at the Beck-Dougherty Mortuary, Newportville - Fallington road, tonight from 7 to 9 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to noon. Viewing also from 1 to 2 p.m. at the Christ Evangelical Lutheran church, Levittown, on Saturday followed by services, Rev. Charles E. Fair will officiate.

MRS. RICHARD H. GREEN

Mrs. Lena E. Neumann Green, wife of Richard H. Green, died suddenly yesterday at her home, 41 Gwyneth Way, Nottingham Village, Born in Queens, N. Y., she lived in Trenton 10 years and prior to that made her home in Morrisville for 18 years.

She also is survived by three daughters, Mrs. William Bolduc and Mrs. Joseph Hughes of Trenton and Mrs. Harlan Huff of Morrisville; a son, Richard A. of Morrisville; a brother, Albert Neumann of Levittown, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Hooper Funeral Chapel, 45 North Pennsylvania avenue, Morrisville, with the Rev. William T. Warren of the Episcopal Church of the Incarnation officiating. Interment will be in Sunset Memorial Park, Somerset. Friends may call this evening.

cation of the washed out Yardley Bridge.

Frederick T. Bebbington, borough secretary said, "Officially we haven't heard anything. The only thing we know about the location of the bridge is what we have read in the newspapers."

"It seems that the project will be an undertaking of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways rather than the Bridge Commission."

"If this is so, the borough council may draft a resolution at the next meeting to both the State and the Bridge Commission opposing the action."

Yardley's borough council is set to discuss the matter Monday at the Borough Hall in the regular monthly session of the council.

Historical Sites
The problem has been further aggravated by the fact that the approaches to the bridge as well as the bridge itself will cause shifts in various historical and sentimental landmarks in the area.

Included among the buildings that may have to be moved out of the way are the historic Yardley home and the Yardley Public Library.

Present State plans call for the bridge to be constructed 400 feet north of Afton avenue with approaches running parallel to it.

A State report said that approaches to the bridge along River Road in Yardley will be 14 feet above the present level of the road. Early plans call for a ramp type of approach being built to the bridge.

EDWARD J. KAISER

Edward J. Kaiser, 42 years, died yesterday at the University Hospital, Philadelphia following a month's illness.

Mr. Kaiser was born in Ellwood City, Pa., Jan. 16, 1914 and was a resident of 490 Lakeside drive, Levittown, for the past four years.

He was a member of the Christ Evangelical Lutheran church, Levittown. He was superintendent of American Industries company, Bristol.

He is survived by his widow, Doris M. Kaiser; two sons, Douglas and Donald; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kaiser, Ellwood City; two brothers, Michael Jr., Ellwood City and Robert of Detroit, Mich.; four sisters, Mrs. Christine Schell, Fairless Hills, Mrs. Gertrude Kuel, Ellwood City, Mrs. Mary Zekel, Ellwood City, and Mrs. Helen Kloss, Ellwood City.

Friends will be received at the Beck-Dougherty Mortuary, Newportville - Fallington road, tonight from 7 to 9 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to noon. Viewing also from 1 to 2 p.m. at the Christ Evangelical Lutheran church, Levittown, on Saturday followed by services, Rev. Charles E. Fair will officiate.

MRS. RICHARD H. GREEN

Mrs. Lena E. Neumann Green, wife of Richard H. Green, died suddenly yesterday at her home, 41 Gwyneth Way, Nottingham Village, Born in Queens, N. Y., she lived in Trenton 10 years and prior to that made her home in Morrisville for 18 years.

She also is survived by three daughters, Mrs. William Bolduc and Mrs. Joseph Hughes of Trenton and Mrs. Harlan Huff of Morrisville; a son, Richard A. of Morrisville; a brother, Albert Neumann of Levittown, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Hooper Funeral Chapel, 45 North Pennsylvania avenue, Morrisville, with the Rev. William T. Warren of the Episcopal Church of the Incarnation officiating. Interment will be in Sunset Memorial Park, Somerset. Friends may call this evening.

MRS. RICHARD H. GREEN

Mrs. Lena E. Neumann Green, wife of Richard H. Green, died suddenly yesterday at her home, 41 Gwyneth Way, Nottingham Village, Born in Queens, N. Y., she lived in Trenton 10 years and prior to that made her home in Morrisville for 18 years.

She also is survived by three daughters, Mrs. William Bolduc and Mrs. Joseph Hughes of Trenton and Mrs. Harlan Huff of Morrisville; a son, Richard A. of Morrisville; a brother, Albert Neumann of Levittown, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Hooper Funeral Chapel, 45 North Pennsylvania avenue, Morrisville, with the Rev. William T. Warren of the Episcopal Church of the Incarnation officiating. Interment will be in Sunset Memorial Park, Somerset. Friends may call this evening.

Sewer Tie-Ins Nearing End

"It's just a matter of time."

That was the opinion of borough secretary Bob Steward of Morrisville on the question of tying in the homes of all residents to the borough sewer line. He said that the applications for permits have been moving steadily.

"We only have about 1100 more homes to go which is less than half of the total amount involved," he said.

Before residents are eligible to file for a permit they must submit floor plans of their homes or businesses, as the case may be, to the secretary's office.

After the plans are approved, applications for connection permits allowing for tie-in with the borough line may be made.

It is up to the individual to contract for the plumbing work. The only stipulation that is made is that the plumber be registered with the borough.

solve the organization. But the indications are that he is rebuilding it into a terror force under Soviet tutelage in a desperate effort to stamp out all anti-Communist opposition.

Police Seize Workers
Refugees reaching Vienna Thursday night said secret police agents arrested an undetermined number of workers leaders in Budapest as well as in provincial cities.

The Budapest Radio admitted the arrest of some members, including Geza Kovacs, chairman of the workers council of the Budapest screw factory, and Josef Meszaros, a council member. It claimed they were "Fascist elements" who "by printing and distributing leaflets and posters tried to instigate Hungarians to further resistance against the Kadar regime."

Reports that 50 members of the workers councils in Budapest had been arrested touched off Thursday's violent demonstrations.

Morrisville Vets To Meet Monday

Plans will be completed Monday night for the annual New Year's Eve party of the Morrisville Memorial Post 6176, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The group will meet at the post home, 101 Hillcrest avenue under the chairmanship of Harry M. Wilcox, post commander.

Ellerslie Seeks Den Mothers

The Ellerslie Civic association, Bensalem township, will discuss the coming Christmas party and possibilities of forming a Cub Pack at its monthly meeting Wednesday at 1169 Harwood road, Ellerslie.

Association Secretary Mrs. Elsie Myers said that boys are available for a Cub Pack, but more Den mothers are needed.

Anyone who is interested in becoming a Den mother may contact David Seitz, Scout liaison officer, at ME 9-1213, she said.

The annual Christmas party, scheduled for Christmas Eve, will be discussed at Wednesday's meeting, the secretary said. Interested persons are invited to attend the meeting, Mrs. Myers said.

Morrisville Street Gets Top Surface

Work was being completed today on adding a top surface to the 300 block of Cox avenue in Morrisville.

The street had been a dead end for years but was recently graded and made ready to carry traffic.

The north side of the street will serve as an entrance to Hill and Park and the south side will run into Washington Heights.

Lower Makefield School Lists Students In Play

The following students will appear in the Lower Makefield Elementary school Christmas program: Donald Applestein, Robert Baker, Edward Belledin, Harry Blackman, Bruce Bowman, Eddie Bowman, John Cole, David Cook, Bill Cyphers, Chester Dalgewicz and Andy Epstein.

John Fish, Richard Ghidro, Henry Goehrig, Thomas Greene, John Hoffman, Henry Hoffmeister, Jack Hoyer, Steven Jurechko, Bobby Katz, John Leopold and Ronald Mackinnon.

Raymond Margerum, Edward Mottershead, Mike O'Neil, Barry Parker, Thomas Pratt, Sydney Saperstein, James Sibert, Phillip Smith, Robert Stockton, Robert Tracey and Thomas Wise.

Heather Aitken, Barbara Allen, Christina Aurich, Penny Bair, Chris Barr, Susan Betts, Janet Biner, Dorothy Black, Merelyn Black, Bonnie Bradbury, Lorraine Butterfield, Elaine Cardall, Arlene Chatto, Cheryl Coyner, Susan Daley, Pat Desmond, Carolyn Dewitt, Bernie Dull, Bette Jean Eck, Miriam Eifert, Gail Ferguson, Susan Garey, Laurie Gift and Judy Glisson.

Lily Gocolinski, Linda Granett, Andrea Gregart, Judy Gusz, Jackie Harper, Melissa Harris, Elizabeth Healy, Barbara Hersch-

er, Billie Ingraham, Patty Ivins, Cheryl Jetter, Patty Kahl, Nancy Kneeshaw, Joanne Kregger, Cindy Lee, Emily Lewin, Paula Lizzio, Marilyn Louis, Mary Kay Luck, Linda Lukacs, Joy Ann Mauro, Kathleen Mendrey, Carol McCormick, Gail McKenzie.

Betty McMillan, Joan McNulty, Nancy Milne, Dorinda Mobley, Diana Morgan, Renee Moss, Joyce Parker, Judy Parker, Linda Paterson, Mary Ann Heart, Lynn Purdy.

Kate Redman, Geraldine Reddy, Roslyn Reich, Doris Reikosky, Dorothy Risdon, Donna Rockhill, Judy Rohman, Louise Roser, Susan Rossi, Veronica Rough, Marget Row, Susan Schildkraut, Ann Schwerin, Gail Scott, Kay Serene, Barbara Shearman, Ann Shorey, Elaine Sliko, Patricia Sliko, Sandra Slusser, Sharon Taylor, Kathy Traub, Janis Van Horn, Cheryl Wall, Jane Warner and Jane Whitaker.

Morrisville • Yardley • Makefield

State Starts Survey Work On Proposed Route 13 Extension

Castle By Youngsters

Students of the Manor Park School in Morrisville built a replica of a middle age castle as a class project. The class is a sixth grade group under the direction of Mrs. Creasy. Putting the finishing touches on the subject are (from left): Richard Marshall, Joanne Widmann, Sandra Laypo, and Dennis Coble. (Courier and Times Photo)

Big Yearbook Is Promised At Morrisville

Plans for the "biggest and best ever" school yearbook were announced today by James Wood of Morrisville High School.

The book will be published in sections on the senior class, home and it will be the largest yearbook ever published at the school, Mr. Wood said.

It will include a review of the year's activities including special sections on the senior class, sports, school activities, sports, and classroom work.

An added attraction this year will be the summer supplement. This will list all activities scheduled after the book is released.

The theme of this year's publication is "Modern Age."

Janet Adams has been appointed editor-in-chief of the publication, Mary Ellen Kane is associate editor, and Joy Skelton will serve as business manager.

Case School Gives Show

Youthful actors and actresses were waiting in the wings today to appear at 7:30 tonight in the Case School Operetta at the Robert Morris High School auditorium.

More than 150 students of the school, grades two through six, will perform in the show.

The operetta is entitled "Windows of Christmas" and will feature choral groups of both boys and girls and various dance numbers.

The entire presentation is under the direction of Horace Hutchinson, director of the Morrisville high school music department. Mr. Hutchinson will be assisted by Miss Carol Dauberman.

The business end of the show is under the guidance of Mrs. Abraham Duncan and Marvin Levitt will handle the art effects for the program.

Rotary Sees Steel Film

Fifty-five Morrisville Rotary club members enjoyed the presentation last night of a U. S. Steel educational film entitled, "Treasure Chest."

Frank O'Keefe of the public relations department of the steel concern presented the film which was a story of the growth of one of America's most vital assets, the tin can.

Guests at the Rotary meeting at Pennsbury Inn included Rotary club members Robert Ruehl, Newtown and Robert Scamell of Washington Crossing and Dr. Leroy Leahy.

James Wood of the Morrisville Rotary also announced that the club will sponsor a "Kiddies Christmas party" for neighborhood children.

The youngsters will be feted Dec. 20 from 6-9 p.m. at the cafeteria of Pennsbury High School.

Auxiliary Plans Visit To Plant

Women from the Ladies Auxiliary of Morrisville Memorial Post 6176, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will visit the LaRosa plant in Hattboro, Tuesday.

The women will leave the post home, 101 Hillcrest avenue, at 10:30 a.m. Chairman of the event is Mary Lou McCoy.

The annual auxiliary Christmas party has been listed for 7 p.m., Dec. 17, Mrs. Doris Marschner, president of the organization announced. Members can make reservations with Mrs. Marschner.

Yardley Readies Bridge Protest

Indications today pointed to a strong protest being lodged by the Yardley Borough Council with the Bridge Commission and the Pennsylvania Department of Highways over the proposed location of the washed out Yardley Bridge.

Frederick T. Bebbington, borough secretary said, "Officially we haven't heard anything. The only thing we know about the location of the bridge is what we have read in the newspapers."

"It seems that the project will be an undertaking of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways rather than the Bridge Commission."

"If this is so, the borough council may draft a resolution at the next meeting to both the State and the Bridge Commission opposing the action."

Yardley's borough council is set to discuss the matter Monday at the Borough Hall in the regular monthly session of the council.

Historical Sites
The problem has been further aggravated by the fact that the approaches to the bridge as well as the bridge itself will cause shifts in various historical and sentimental landmarks in the area.

Included among the buildings that may have to be moved out of the way are the historic Yardley home and the Yardley Public Library.

Present State plans call for the bridge to be constructed 400 feet north of Atton avenue with approaches running parallel to it.

A State report said that approaches to the bridge along River Road in Yardley will be 14 feet above the present level of the road. Early plans call for a ramp type of approach being built to the bridge.

Edward J. KAISER
Edward J. Kaiser, 42 years, died yesterday at the University Hospital, Philadelphia following a month's illness.

Mr. Kaiser was born in Ellwood City, Pa., Jan. 16, 1914 and was a resident of 490 Lakeside drive, Levittown, for the past four years.

He was a member of the Christ Evangelical Lutheran church, Levittown. He was superintendent of American Industries company, Bristol.

He is survived by his widow, Doris M. Kaiser; two sons, Douglas and Donald; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kaiser, Ellwood City; two brothers, Michael Jr., Ellwood City and Robert of Detroit, Mich.; four sisters, Mrs. Christine Schell, Fairless Hills, Mrs. Gertrude Kuel, Ellwood City, Mrs. Mary Zekeli, Ellwood City, and Mrs. Helen Kloss, Ellwood City.

Friends will be received at the Beck-Dougherty Mortuary, Newportville - Fallsington road, to-night from 7 to 9 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to noon. Viewing also from 1 to 2 p.m. at the Christ Evangelical Lutheran church, Levittown, on Saturday followed by services, Rev. Charles E. Fair will officiate.

MRS. RICHARD H. GREEN
Mrs. Lena E. Neumann Green, wife of Richard H. Green, died suddenly yesterday at her home, 41 Gwyneth Way, Nottingham Village, Born in Queens, N. Y., she lived in Trenton 10 years and prior to that made her home in Morrisville for 18 years.

She also is survived by three daughters, Mrs. William Bolduc and Mrs. Joseph Hughes of Trenton and Mrs. Harlan Huff of Morrisville; a son, Richard A. of Morrisville; a brother, Albert Neumann of Levittown, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Hooper Funeral Chapel, 45 North Pennsylvania avenue, Morrisville, with the Rev. William T. Warren of the Episcopal Church of the Incarnation officiating. Interment will be in Sunset Memorial Park, Somerset. Friends may call this evening.

Makefield Pupils Slate Yule Concert

A Christmas concert will be presented by students of the Makefield Elementary school on Friday, Dec. 14 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. This will be the second of a series of annual music festivals to be given by the elementary schools of the Pennsbury schools.

The program presented by "The Makefield Melody Makers" will feature traditional Christmas music by a chorus of 100 boys and girls from the fifth and sixth grades. There will be a Junior Chorus of third grade students and a Flute Choir made up of the children from Mrs. Murphy's third grade. The choruses are under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Messinger, assisted by Miss Clair Hammond.

Choral Speaking Choir
Mrs. Clementine Ross, assisted by Miss Alice Foose and Mrs. Alberta Beatty, is directing a Choral Speaking choir, which will tell "The Christmas Story."

The Pennsbury Elementary School band which is made up of pupils from all of the Pennsbury Elementary schools, will play a variety of selections during two parts of the program.

The band is under the direction of Kenneth Blyler and Gino Mule, who are in charge of the instrumental music program in the elementary schools of the Pennsbury schools.

Miss Ruth Dusch is directing the art work of the children as they prepare publicity posters and make the stage scenery and decorations. A design drawn by Penny Bair was chosen to be printed on the programs.

Matinees Planned
A matinee will be given for the primary grades on Wednesday and another matinee for the intermediate grades on Thursday.

In charge of the ticket sales is Mr. Robert Brown and Mr. Paul Peiffer, teachers of the school, assisted by the Student Council. Tickets may be purchased by contacting any pupil of the school.

Sewer Tie-Ins Nearing End
"It's just a matter of time."

That was the opinion of borough secretary Bob Steward of Morrisville on the question of tying in the homes of all residents to the borough sewer line.

He said that the applications for permits have been moving steadily.

"We only have about 1100 more homes to go which is less than half of the total amount involved," he said.

Before residents are eligible to file for a permit they must submit floor plans of their homes or businesses, as the case may be, to the secretary's office.

After the plans are approved, applications for connection permits allowing for tie-in with the borough line may be made.

It is up to the individual to contract for the plumbing work. The only stipulation that is made is that the plumber be registered with the borough.

solve the organization. But the indications are that he is rebuilding it into a terror force under Soviet tutelage in a desperate effort to stamp out all anti-Communist opposition.

Police Seize Workers
Refugees reaching Vienna Thursday night said secret police agents arrested an undetermined number of workers leaders in Budapest as well as in provincial cities.

The Budapest Radio admitted the arrest of some members, including Geza Kovacs, chairman of the workers council of the Budapest screw factory, and Josef Meszaros, a council member. It claimed they were "Fascist elements" who "by printing and distributing leaflets and posters tried to instigate Hungarians to further resistance against the Kadar regime."

Reports that 50 members of the workers councils in Budapest had been arrested touched off Thursday's violent demonstrations.

Morrisville Vets To Meet Monday
Plans will be completed Monday night for the annual New Year's Eve party of the Morrisville Memorial Post 6176, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The group will meet at the post home, 101 Hillcrest avenue under the chairmanship of Harry M. Wilcox, post commander.

Retired Gentleman Farmer

William Kirkbride is shown outside of his farm home at Upper River Road, Yardley. The retired gentleman is 83-years-old but still keeps active in many ways. He runs a small egg business and enjoys putting around the garden. (Courier and Times Photo)

Only Six Months To Live-In 1896

83-Year-Old Egg Seller Enjoys Square Dancing

By MAURY ALLEN
Courier and Times Staff Writer

The doctor's look was serious.

"My boy," he told the 23-year-old patient, "you have an incurable digestive disease. You have only six months to live."

The time was 1896.

60 Years Later
Today, 60 years, six great grandchildren, and three farms later, an 83-year-old Yardley gentleman sells eggs in Morrisville, square dances on weekends and putters in his flower garden.

"And I haven't had a belly ache since then," says William Kirkbride of Upper River road.

"The doctor said my appetite was too heavy for my size," said the pint-sized 120-pounder. "That's what was causing my trouble. I just ignored him, went on home and haven't been bothered by doctors since."

"And I eat anything I darn please now, just like I always have."

The retired farmer lives alone on a small plot of land that sits close to the Delaware River.

"Years ago I used to haul potatoes to Philadelphia by horse and wagon. The trip took me seven hours and I stayed in Philadelphia overnight and then copped back the next day."

"Now some of these huge things you see on the highway are enough to scare a man. I drive my own panel truck but I wouldn't get behind one of them things. My old panel job takes me where I want to go. And what's more it always takes me back. What more Mr. Kirkbride was born in Langhorne and went to work when he was 14 years old.

"Those days a boy was lucky to go as far in school as I did. I saw that my four children got lots of schooling though. I have one daughter and three sons. All my boys are college graduates and two of them are teachers with PhD degrees."

"I grew up on my grandparents' farm. My mother died when I was only four days old."

Square Dances Fun
"And boy, those square dances are fun. I don't get over to them as much as I used to. Especially when the weather is bad I like to stay home. But I can still cut up pretty good when I get a chance."

"I'm not too up on some of these modern things though. I watch TV once in awhile but I'm not too crazy about it."

Eyes Still Good
"My eyes are pretty good for a fellow my age I betcha. I sometimes have a little trouble reading a paper or a magazine. My arms are too short so I can't get the paper far enough away from me. I use glasses for that but I see real good otherwise."

Then came the inevitable question.
Sir, to what do you owe your long life?

"Well," he pondered "maybe it's because I never drank or caroused around. I chew tobacco and smoke cigars but I never had a cigarette in my life."

"Don't know exactly what it is but I sure know it isn't because of that fool doctor. Can a big Cadillac do?"

Started Work At 14

er, Billie Ingraham, Patty Ivins, Cheryl Jetter, Patty Kahl, Nancy Kneeshaw, Joanne Kregger, Cindy Lee, Emily Lewin, Paula Lizzio, Marilyn Louis, Mary Kay Luck, Linda Lukacs, Joy Ann Mauro, Kathleen Mendrey, Carol McCormick, Gail McKenzie.

Betty McMillan, Joan McNulty, Nancy Milne, Dorinda Mobley, Diana Morgan, Renee Moss, Joyce Parker, Judy Parker, Linda Patterson, Mary Ann Heart, Lynn Purdy.

Kate Reddan, Geraldine Reddy, Roslyn Reich, Doris Reiskosky, Dorothy Risdon, Donna Rockhill, Judy Rohman, Louise Roser, Susan Rossi, Veronica Rough, Margaret Row, Susan Schildkraut, Ann Schwerin, Gail Scott, Kay Serene, Barbara Shearman, Ann Shorey, Elaine Slikko, Patricia Slikko, Sandra Slusser, Sharon Taylor, Kathy Traub, Janis VanHorn, Cheryl Wall, Jane Warner and Jane Whitaker.

Raymond Margerum, Edward Mothershead, Mike O'Neil, Barry Parker, Thomas Pratt, Sydney Saperstein, James Sibert, Phillip Smith, Robert Stockton, Robert Tracey and Thomas Wise.

Heather Aitken, Barbara Allen, Christina Aurich, Penny Bair, Chris Barr, Susan Betts, Janet Biner, Dorothy Black, Merelyn Black, Bonnie Bradbury, Lorraine Butterfield, Elaine Cardall, Arlene Chatto, Cheryl Coyner, Susan Daley, Pat Desmond, Carolyn Dewitt, Bernie Dull, Bette Jean Eck, Miriam Eifert, Gail Ferguson, Susan Garey, Laurie Gift and Judy Glisson.

Lily Gocolinski, Linda Granett, Andrea Gregart, Judy Gusz, Jackie Harper, Melissa Harris, Elizabeth Healy, Barbara Hersch-

Lower Makefield School Lists Students In Play

The following students will appear in the Lower Makefield Elementary School Christmas program: Donald Applestein, Robert Baker, Edward Belledin, Harry Blackman, Bruce Bowman, Eddie Bowman, John Cole, David Cook, Bill Cyphers, Chester Dalgewicz and Andy Epstein.

John Fish, Richard Ghidro, Henry Goehrig, Thomas Greene, John Hoffman, Henry Hoffmeister, Jack Hoyer, Steven Jurechko, Bobby Katz, John Leopold and Ronald Mackinnon.

Raymond Margerum, Edward Mothershead, Mike O'Neil, Barry Parker, Thomas Pratt, Sydney Saperstein, James Sibert, Phillip Smith, Robert Stockton, Robert Tracey and Thomas Wise.

Lily Gocolinski, Linda Granett, Andrea Gregart, Judy Gusz, Jackie Harper, Melissa Harris, Elizabeth Healy, Barbara Hersch-

60th Wedding Anniversary
"My wife got ill some time ago and I've been living alone since she's been in the hospital. We'll be celebrating our 60th wedding anniversary pretty soon."

"It gets kind of lonely but I have my little egg business and I play around the garden quite a lot. I keep busy. I drive my little panel truck over to Morrisville about twice a week after I pick up the eggs from a neighborhood farmer."

Square Dances Fun
"And boy, those square dances are fun. I don't get over to them as much as I used to. Especially when the weather is bad I like to stay home. But I can still cut up pretty good when I get a chance."

"I'm not too up on some of these modern things though. I watch TV once in awhile but I'm not too crazy about it."

Eyes Still Good
"My eyes are pretty good for a fellow my age I betcha. I sometimes have a little trouble reading a paper or a magazine. My arms are too short so I can't get the paper far enough away from me. I use glasses for that but I see real good otherwise."

Then came the inevitable question.
Sir, to what do you owe your long life?

"Well," he pondered "maybe it's because I never drank or caroused around. I chew tobacco and smoke cigars but I never had a cigarette in my life."

"Don't know exactly what it is but I sure know it isn't because of that fool doctor. Can a big Cadillac do?"

Started Work At 14

er, Billie Ingraham, Patty Ivins, Cheryl Jetter, Patty Kahl, Nancy Kneeshaw, Joanne Kregger, Cindy Lee, Emily Lewin, Paula Lizzio, Marilyn Louis, Mary Kay Luck, Linda Lukacs, Joy Ann Mauro, Kathleen Mendrey, Carol McCormick, Gail McKenzie.

Betty McMillan, Joan McNulty, Nancy Milne, Dorinda Mobley, Diana Morgan, Renee Moss, Joyce Parker, Judy Parker, Linda Patterson, Mary Ann Heart, Lynn Purdy.

Kate Reddan, Geraldine Reddy, Roslyn Reich, Doris Reiskosky, Dorothy Risdon, Donna Rockhill, Judy Rohman, Louise Roser, Susan Rossi, Veronica Rough, Margaret Row, Susan Schildkraut, Ann Schwerin, Gail Scott, Kay Serene, Barbara Shearman, Ann Shorey, Elaine Slikko, Patricia Slikko, Sandra Slusser, Sharon Taylor, Kathy Traub, Janis VanHorn, Cheryl Wall, Jane Warner and Jane Whitaker.

Raymond Margerum, Edward Mothershead, Mike O'Neil, Barry Parker, Thomas Pratt, Sydney Saperstein, James Sibert, Phillip Smith, Robert Stockton, Robert Tracey and Thomas Wise.

Heather Aitken, Barbara Allen, Christina Aurich, Penny Bair, Chris Barr, Susan Betts, Janet Biner, Dorothy Black, Merelyn Black, Bonnie Bradbury, Lorraine Butterfield, Elaine Cardall, Arlene Chatto, Cheryl Coyner, Susan Daley, Pat Desmond, Carolyn Dewitt, Bernie Dull, Bette Jean Eck, Miriam Eifert, Gail Ferguson, Susan Garey, Laurie Gift and Judy Glisson.

Lily Gocolinski, Linda Granett, Andrea Gregart, Judy Gusz, Jackie Harper, Melissa Harris, Elizabeth Healy, Barbara Hersch-

Lower Makefield School Lists Students In Play

The following students will appear in the Lower Makefield Elementary School Christmas program: Donald Applestein, Robert Baker, Edward Belledin, Harry Blackman, Bruce Bowman, Eddie Bowman, John Cole, David Cook, Bill Cyphers, Chester Dalgewicz and Andy Epstein.

John Fish, Richard Ghidro, Henry Goehrig, Thomas Greene, John Hoffman, Henry Hoffmeister, Jack Hoyer, Steven Jurechko, Bobby Katz, John Leopold and Ronald Mackinnon.

Raymond Margerum, Edward Mothershead, Mike O'Neil, Barry Parker, Thomas Pratt, Sydney Saperstein, James Sibert, Phillip Smith, Robert Stockton, Robert Tracey and Thomas Wise.

Lily Gocolinski, Linda Granett, Andrea Gregart, Judy Gusz, Jackie Harper, Melissa Harris, Elizabeth Healy, Barbara Hersch-

Lower Makefield School Lists Students In Play

Engineers Look Over 4000-Ft. Site

Over 4000 feet of wooded area was surveyed yesterday by state highway engineers in connection with the proposed extension of Route 13 into Yardley.

The survey was being made at the end of the present highway site in Tullytown with transits and other elaborate engineering measuring devices.

"We're sure the extension will begin at this point. That's where the highway ends off. The only question open for discussion now is where the end of the new highway will be dumped," he said.

This is the question that has aroused residents of Yardley. The State has not definitely decided where to place the end yet, it was indicated.

"In fact we don't have any idea when the construction might begin. This survey is more for information's sake than for anything else at this time," he said.

Various Calculations
The four-man State crew made various calculations at 50-foot intervals.

The site at which the highway ends presently, is heavily sloped into a wooded area. The State men were measuring the slope and calculating how much work would be involved in building the ground up.

"One of the reasons that has caused difficulty both with the State and with the residents," the surveyor said "is because surveys made years ago are still being used for information."

Bring Up To Date
"One of our main jobs is to bring the State up to date on actual conditions of the area. State highway engineers in Harrisburg often plan the highways without actually bringing the surveyed area up to date."

"What happens is they plan the highway thinking the area is a wooded or farm area."

"All of a sudden a current survey turns up 300 homes in what once was an empty field."

"It can create problems," he said.

Sewer Line Bids Refused

It may be awhile before the borough hall of Morrisville ties in to the borough sewer line, Neal Nolan indicated today.

Mr. Nolan, chairman of the public property committee, stated that his committee has refused to accept any bids for the project. Various concerns presented their request for doing the sewer work at the committee meeting.

It was emphasized that money may be saved by having borough employees do the work.

Mr. Nolan said, "The borough has its own employees. I don't see any reason why they can't do the job instead of hiring an outside concern to build the line."

"Bids received at the committee meeting all proved too high," he said.

Now the project will be again referred to borough secretary Bob Steward, Mr. Nolan said.

It also will likely come up for consideration at the council meeting Tuesday, Mr. Nolan said.

Optimist Unit Social Is Set

The Yardley-Lower Makefield Optimist club is set for its premier annual social ball tomorrow, chairman Seward Carter reported today.

A dinner and dance at Washington Crossing Inn will begin at 7:30 p.m., the committee chairman said.

Music will be supplied by Art Brown and his orchestra and door prizes will be awarded to the ladies. The chairman stated that a capacity crowd of more than 130 members and guests is expected to attend the affair.

Committee members include Mr. Carter, Andrew Cochran, president of the club, Paul Connel and Bill Van Syckle.

Segregationist Assails Govt.

WASHINGTON — UP — John Kasper, 27-year-old organizer of a White Citizens Council, said today that he and other segregationists will "spill blood" before they accept "a creeping federal dictatorship."

Kasper called the arrest in Clinton, Tenn., of 16 segregationists on federal charges "final proof of the breakdown of law and order in the United States."

WASHINGTON — UP — John Kasper, 27-year-old organizer of a White Citizens Council, said today that he and other segregationists will "spill blood" before they accept "a creeping federal dictatorship."